FORTIETH CONGRESS.

[THIRD SESSION.]

Large Number of Bills Passed—Both Houses Engaged on Appropriations — Unsuccessful Attempt to Repeal Tenure-of-Office Act.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 2, 1869.

SENATE.

Mr. MORTON moved to take up the case of the Senators from the Southern States, but Mr. TRUMBULL objected.

The bill granting lands to Wisconsin in aid of a breakwater in Sturgeon Bay, passed.

The Army Appropriation bill was taken up, and after a brief discussion the bill was laid aside and the Legislative Appropriation bill taken up.

Several amendments from the Committee on Appropriations were agreed to.

Mr. MORRILL, of Vermont, moved to strike out the clause increasing the salaries of female clerks in departments.

This was opposed by Messrs. Pomeroy, Trumbull and Ferry, and supported by Messrs. Howe, Morrill Cragin and Conkling. Rejected—15 to 33.

Mr. FERRY offered an amendment, which was adopted, giving female clerks, counters and copyists the same compensation as males doing the same work.

An amendment, proposed by the Committee, increasing the salary of the Treasurer of the United States to $8,000, was rejected—19 to 25.

On motion of Mr. SHERMAN, an amendment was agreed to, that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue should not be required to give bonds, as he don't have to receive any public money.

An amendment increasing the appropriation for salaries and expenses of Collectors, Assessors, Assistant Assessors, etc., from $6,000,000 to $8,000,000, was agreed to.

An amendment appropriating $5,000 to fulfil the contract with Minnie Ream for a statue of Abraham Lincoln excited discussion and was agreed to.

The Senate insisted on the amendment to Mr. Schenck's bill, and Messrs. Sherman, Morton and Williams were appointed a Committee of Conference; also insisted on the amendments to the bill removing political disabilities, and Messrs. Stewart, Sumner and Hendricks were appointed a Committee of Conference.

Mr. BUCKALEW, from select Committee on the subject, reported his bill to secure full and complete representation of all citizens, whether of majority or minority.

Mr. SUMNER, from the Committee of Conference on the Diplomatic Appropriation bill, made a report which was agreed to.

The Legislative Appropriation bill being still before the Senate,

The office of Assistant Secretary of the Navy was, by amendment, abolished and the salary struck out. The number of clerks in that department was also reduced. Eleven thousand dollars was added for paving the walks in the botanical garden.

The Committee reported an amendment, which was laid aside, authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to receive on deposit at the mint and branches refined gold and silver bullion suitable for coinage, and give in payment thereof imported bars at the rates and upon the rules prescribed by the Director of the Mint, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. WHYTE offered an amendment increasing the salaries of department employes ten per cent.

Pending action the Senate took a recess.

Evening Session.—The bill donating cannon to the Lincoln Monument Association of Springfield, Ill., was passed.

The bill to more effectually protect the fur trade of Alaska was amended and passed.

Mr. SUMNER called up the bill relating to telegraphic communication between the United States and foreign countries, being the bill reported by him from Committee on Foreign Relations on February 2d. He moved an amendment to the second section, the object of which is to protect the grant already made to the cable between Florida and Cuba, which was adopted, and the bill passed.

The Legislative, Executive and Judicial appropriation bill was proceeded with.

Mr. FERRY moved an amendment, appropriating $15,000 for the expense of investigating the cause of the Texas cattle disease, under the supervision of the Department of Agriculture. Adopted.

Mr. WILLEY offered a number of amendments, the effect of which is to keep the present force in the Patent Office. Adopted.

The proviso relative to receiving at the mints of deposits of refined gold and silver bullion, which was laid over this afternoon, was agreed to.

The question was then on the amendment of Mr. Whyte, to give ten per cent. additional compensation to government employees for the present and last fiscal year.

Mr. MORRILL, of Maine, raised the point that the amendment was not in order, not having been recommended by any Committee of the Senate.

The Chair decided the point well taken and ruled the amendment out of order.

Mr. MORTON moved an additional section, that the act regulating the tenure of certain civil offices is hereby repealed.

The Chair laid before the Senate a dispatch from Carson City, Nevada, to the effect that the Legislature had ratified the Constitutional Amendment.

Mr. FERRY said he was in favor of the repeal of the tenure-of-office act, but at this stage of the session he could not vote to place it on an appropriation bill.

Mr. HOWARD made the point that the amendment of Mr. Morton was out of order, not being germain to the matter under consideration.

The CHAIR decided the amendment in order.

Mr. HOWARD appealed from the decision.

Mr. TRUMBULL, without indicating how he should vote, asked Mr. Morton to withdraw the amendment, as it would lead to debate.

Mr. MORTON said the friends of repeal did not intend to debate. The vote could be taken in five minutes, and the appropriation bill would not be endangered, the House having voted for the repeal by a large majority.

After some discussion, Mr. HOWARD withdrew his appeal.

Mr. SUMNER moved as a substitute the modified bill reported from Committee on Retrenchment.

Mr. TRUMBULL believed the Tenure-of-office bill should either be repealed or essentially modified, but he could not countenance this attempt to put it on an appropriation bill.

The question was taken on the amendment of Mr. Sumner, which was rejected—yeas, 17; nays, 32.

The question recurred on the amendment of Mr. Morton, when it was rejected as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Cole, Conness, Dixon, Drake, Grimes, Henderson, Kellogg, McDonald, Morgan, Morton, Osborne, Pomeroy, Pool, Ramsey, Robertson, Ross, Sherman, Thayer, Van Winkle, Vickers, Warner and Whyte—22.

Nays—Messrs. Abbott, Anthony, Cameron, Chandler, Corbett, Cragin, Ferry, Frelinghuysen, Harlan, Harris, Howard, Howe, Morrill, (Maine,) Morrill, (Vermont,) Patterson, (New Hampshire,) Sawyer, Spencer, Sprague, Sumner, Tipton, Trumbull, Wade, Welch, Willey, Williams and Wilson—26.

Mr. CAMERON said although he voted no, he felt very awkward about it.

Mr. HENDRICKS stated he refrained from voting because he had paired off on political questions with Mr. Yates, who had gone home, but who, he supposed, would vote with the majority of his party on this subject.

Mr. CONKLING, who at first had voted in the negative, asked to withdraw his vote, as he had forgotten he had made some kind of vague arrangement to pair with Mr. Doolittle.

Mr. HOWARD objected to the withdrawal.

Mr. POMEROY, who had not responded when his name was called, said he had supposed he was paired with the Senator from Wisconsin, but he would now vote.

The Clerk then called Mr. Pomeroy, and he voted in the affirmative.

Mr. CONKLING—That will not do: the Senator votes the same way as the Senator from Wisconsin.

The Chair—Well, does the Senator from New York withdraw his vote?

Mr. CONKLING—Yes sir; I prefer not to run any risk about it.

Amendments were adopted directing the heads of departments to report at the opening of Congress, in December, what reduction can be made in the number of clerks, and that proprietors of bonded warehouses shall hereafter pay salaries to storekeepers.

Mr. HENDRICKS moved to omit the appropriation for the department of Education. Rejected.

The bill passed, and goes to the House for concurrence in amendments.

The Post Office appropriation bill was taken up.

Mr. WILSON offered as an amendment the bill for the establishment of an American line of steamships to Europe.

It was opposed by Messrs. Conkling, Grimes and others. It was withdrawn, with the remark from Mr. Wilson that he would offer it again.

The bill was then passed.

The Deficiency appropriation bill was taken up. Several of the amendments reported by the Committee were adopted.

At 12:45 the Senate was still considering the bill, with the intention of passing it before adjournment.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The Senate resolution to continue the contract for printing the Congressional debates in the Globe was adopted.

The Senate resolution in favor of the New York and Cincinnati bridges was adopted.

A resolution authorizing the transfer of certain lands granted the Union Pacific Railroad to the Denver Pacific Railroad and Telegraph Company was passed.

The Senate amendments to the bill to strengthen the public credit were nonconcurred in, and a Conference Committee asked for. Messrs. Schenck, Allison and Niblack were appointed the House Committee.

The amendments to the Miscellaneous Appropriation Bill as reported by the Committee of the Whole was then voted upon. The Iowa war claim was rejected.

Mr. GRISWOLD made an ineffectual effort to restore the Iowa claims, but it was rejected by a vote of sixty-nine to seventy-four.

The amendments granting one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for a branch mint at San Francisco, and fifteen hundred dollars to each contesting party for seats in the House, were adopted.

The bill then passed.

By request of Mr. GARFIELD, the Speaker stated that the House was in advance of the Senate on appropriation bills, all having been disposed of by the House except the amendments to the Indian bill.

There were about one hundred and fifteen bills on the Speaker's table, many being House bills with Senate amendments, mostly verbal.

Mr. SCHENCK said a whole night's session was absolutely necessary, and it ought to be to-night.

It was agreed to meet at nine o'clock to-night and sit two or three hours.

The SPEAKER announced that he would present his resignation to-morrow morning.

The Senate amendments to the Indian Appropriation bill were non-concurred in, and a Conference Committee asked for. Messrs. Butler, of Massachusetts, Scofield and Windom were appointed on the part of the House.

Mr. ORTH reported from the Committee of Conference on the Diplomatic Appropriation bill, which was agreed to.

Mr. SCHENCK, from joint Committee on Ordnance, reported a bill to pay Norman Wiard $125,848 in full for steel guns furnished the Navy Department in 1861. Passed.

The business on the Speaker's table was then considered.

A Committee of Conference was agreed to on the National Currency bill. Messrs. Coburn, Judd and Hooper were appointed.

The message from the Senate, relative to the release of Warren and Castello from English prisons, was, after remarks by Mr. ROBINSON, of New York, referred to Committee on Foreign Affairs, and ordered to be printed.

The Senate amendments to the House bill relative to captures by Farragut's fleet in the Mississippi river, in 1862, were concurred in.

The Senate amendments to the House joint resolution, relative to certain purchases by the Interior Department, were concurred in.

The Senate amendments to the House bill to repeal certain sections of the act of March 20, 1867, regarding the disposition of fines and penalties or forfeitures under laws relating to customs were nonconcurred in, and a Committee of Conference asked.

The Senate amendments to the House bill, relative to additional bounties, were concurred in.

Also, those to the House bill amending the act to exempt certain manufactures from internal tax.

Also, those to the House bill relative to certifying checks by National banks.

The Senate substitute for the House bill regulating reports of National Banking Associations was non-concurred in and a Committee of Conference asked. Messrs. Randall, Pomeroy and Lynch were appointed on the part of the House.

The Senate amendments for the sale of Hot Springs reservation were referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

Those to the House bill for the relief of certain scouts in Alabama were concurred in.

Also, those to the bill for the relief of the Illinois Iron and Bolt Company.

The Senate bill relative to proof of wills in the District of Columbia passed.

Also, that respecting the organization of militia in Southern States.

The Senate joint resolution tendering sympathy to Spain, coming up, Mr. BANKS, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a substitute, sympathising with the people of Spain in their efforts to establish the liberty of the nation, with the people of Cuba in their efforts to secure independence, and authorizing the President to recognize the independence of Cuba whenever, in his opinion, a republican form of government shall have been established.

The substitute was agreed to and the joint resolution passed unanimously.

The Senate amendments to the House bill to compensate the officers and crew of the Kearsarge for the destruction of the Alabama were non-concurred in, and a Committee of Conference asked. Messrs. Pike, Twitchell and Haight were appointed on the part of the House.

The Senate amendments to the House bill relative to Judge Advocates of the Army, fixing the number at one hundred and one, were non-concurred in.

The concurrent resolution of the Senate requesting the President to transmit to the Executives of the States the proposed Constitutional amendment relative to the elective franchise, was concurred in.

The Senate amendments to the House bill to amend the National Currency act, by extending certain penalties to accessories, was concurred in.

The Senate bill granting lands to Oregon for a military road was amended by limiting the grant to three sections for every mile thereof, and passed.

The Senate bill relative to the time for finding indictments in the Courts of the United States in the late rebel States, was passed.

The Senate joint resolution re-appointing Louis Agassiz, as Regent of the Smithsonian Institute, was passed.

The House took a recess.

Evening Session.—The House met at nine o'clock, the Speaker in the chair, and resumed the consideration of business on the Speaker's table.

Several minor Senate and private bills were passed.

The Senate bill for the reduction of the army was laid aside temporarily.

The Senate joint resolution relating to the Department of the Interior was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

The Senate bill giving effect to the treaty stipulations between this and foreign Governments, and the extradition of criminals was passed.

The Senate bill amendatory of the Act of July 25th, 1866, providing for the sale of the Arsenal grounds at St. Louis and Liberty, Missouri, passed.

The Senate bill to provide for the execution of judgment in capital cases, passed.

The Senate bill to regulate elections in Washington and Idaho Territories passed.

The Senate bill for the further security of equal rights in the District of Columbia passed.

The Senate joint resolution for printing the medical and surgical history of the war was taken up. After remarks in advocacy of it by Messrs. Garfield, Butler and Bingham, and there being no quorum voting, the bill went over till to-morrow, and the House at 11:20 adjourned.

An announcement was made from the Clerk's desk, by authority of Mr. Schenck, that an adjourned meeting of the caucus of Republican members will be held on Friday morning at half-past ten.

The Insurrection in Cuba.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, March 2.—A report is circulating that all political prisoners will be sent to Fernandino, and that volunteers are being enlisted to act as guards on board the transports. The Government is silent upon the subject.

St. Francisco Hernandez, commander of cavalry in the district of Parar Del Rio, has been placed in jail of a charge of disloyalty.

Official information is received of three engagements of troops under Colonel Valero with insurgents, during which the troops used the bayonet freely. The insurgents lost sixty killed and the troops four killed and several wounded. The forces under General Letona have arrived at Villa Clara and those under General Palez at Cienfuegos.

The rebels have burned the San Miguel plantation.

The Diaro says an engagement took place at Maguanja, two leagues from Sagua, in which the insurgents were defeated with a loss of twenty killed and many wounded. The troops lost two killed and several wounded.

The Throng at Army Headquarters—Cabinet Rumors—A Delegation from Texas—Crowd in the City—Congressional Caucuses — Nominations for Officers of the New House of Representatives—A. J's. Farewell Reception.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, March 2, 1869.

THE THRONG AT THE ARMY HEADQUARTERS.

No event of great importance transpired at the Army Headquarters this morning. There is no decrease in the number of visitors, and a constant stream was kept up during the morning.

A delegation from Texas, headed by General Reynolds, and a delegation of Republicans from Alabama, accompanied by Senator Ward, called early in the day. The interviews were brief, and of no particular interest. Hon. G. A. Grow, of Pennsylvania, was among the visitors. Great numbers of others called, including members of Congress, bringing friends with them, officers of the army, Governors of States, members of State Legislatures, &c. Geo. T. Brown, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, had a short interview with General Grant.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL CAUCUS.

The Republican members of the Forty-first Congress met in caucus in the Hall of Representatives this evening. Mr. Washburne, of Mass., called the caucus to order, and nominated Mr. Schenck, of Ohio, for Chairman, who was unanimously elected. Mr. Ketcham, of New York, and Mr. Fitch, of Nevada, were chosen Secretaries. The roll was called, and one hundred and twenty-nine out of one hundred and thirty-six members answered. On motion of Mr. Scofield, members of the Fortieth Congress were admitted to the floor as spectators. Mr. Ingersoll moved the New Hampshire delegation and Mr. Starkweather, of Connecticut, be allowed to participate in the caucus. The Chair decided the motion out of order. Mr. Ingersoll appealed. On motion of Mr. Ward, of New York, the appeal was tabled—81 against 11. On motion of Mr. Garfield, it was resolved the order of nominations by caucus should be, first, Speaker; second, Clerk; third, Sergeant-at-Arms; fourth, Doorkeeper; fifth, Postmaster.

Mr. Dawes, in a few eloquent remarks, placed in nomination for Speaker James G. Blaine, of Maine, and Mr. Blaine was nominated by acclamation.

On motion of Mr. Jenckes, debate was restricted to five minutes for each member, and not more than twenty minutes on any question, and a majority of all votes cast made necessary to a choice.

Mr. Bingham placed in nomination for Clerk of the House Col. Ephraim Eckley, of Ohio; Mr. Dickey nominated Edward McPherson, of Pennsylvania; Mr. Maynard, of Tennessee, presented the name of Col. Samuel McKee, of Kentucky. The ballot resulted: McPherson eighty-three, Eckley twenty-six, McKee twenty. Mr. McPherson was declared the unanimous choice.

Mr. Clark, of Kansas, on behalf of the New Hampshire delegation, placed in nomination Col. Ordway, of New Hampshire, present incumbent, for Sergeant-at-Arms. Mr. Orth, of Indiana, nominated H. W. Washburne, of Indiana. Mr. Ordway received seventy-five votes, Mr. Washburne fifty-seven. Mr. Ordway was declared elected.

Mr. Kelsey, of New York, presented the name of O. S. Buxton, of New York, for Doorkeeper, and General Logan, of Illinois, nominated W. T. Collins. Mr. Buxton received ninety-eight votes, Mr. Collins twenty-nine. The nomination of Mr. Buxton was made unanimous.

Mr. Allison nominated Col. Josiah Given, of Iowa, for Postmaster of the House. Mr. Logan nominated Josiah Lucas, of Illinois. and Mr. Benjamin presented the name of W. S. King, of Minnesota. The ballot resulted: (Whole number, one hundred and twenty-nine; necessary to a choice, sixty-five.) King, sixty-three; Given, sixty-two: Lucas, three; scattering, one. No person having a majority, and while preparing to ballot again, the hour of nine having arrived, the time fixed for the House to meet, the caucus adjourned, subject to the call of the Chairman.

Mr. Dawes will move to-morrow that Theodore M. Pomeroy, of New York, be elected Speaker of the House for the remainder of the session, after the resignation of Mr. Colfax.

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The Democrats also held a caucus. Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, presided, and Mr. Knott, of Kentucky, acted as Secretary. There was a full attendance. The caucus nominated for Speaker, Mr. Kerr, of Indiana: for Clerk, C. W. Carrigan, of Pennsylvania; for Sergeant-at-Arms, Owen Thorn, of Washington; for Doorkeeper, David Wagoner, of Illinois, and for Postmaster, Wm. Minor, of New York.

A DELEGATION FROM TEXAS.

Gov. A. J. Hamilton, Jno. L. Haynes, M. L. Armstrong, Dr. R. N. Lane. F. W. Sumner, Capt. Edwards, Dr. Baker, Col. Stancel, and Messrs. Stockbridge and Camp, of Texas, called on Gen. Grant today, and were presented by Maj. Gen. J. J. Reynolds. Gov. Hamilton, on behalf of Texas, congratulated Gen. Grant and the country at large, and the South in particular, on his election, and assured him the Texas Convention had presented a good Constitution to the people and he had no doubt of its ratification, and that Texas would soon be restored to the Union. Gen. Grant expressed his gratification and said he thought Gen. Canby was an excellent officer, but he felt it due to Gen. Reynolds to restore the latter to his command. The Texians were well pleased with their interview. They are all opposed to a division of the State.

THE INAUGURAL ADDRESS.

There is pretty good reason for believing that Gen. Grant, in his inaugural address on Thursday, will take decided ground in support of the suffrage amendment to the Constitution, and recommend its ratification by the States as a measure of peace and harmony. He began the preparation of the document some time ago, and though it will be brief, he is giving it a good deal of attention. He has consulted a few of his intimate friends about certain matters on which it is believed he will have something to say, but none of the politicians of either branch of Congress have been invited to look over the paper.

THE NEW SENATORS.

Fifteen new Senators, most of whom are already in the city, will take their seats on the 4th of March, and the places of the retiring members on the Committees will have to be supplied. There will be five vacant chairmanships, namely: Appropriations, Indian Affairs, Pensions, Mines and Mining, and the Library, by the retirement of Messrs. Morrill, of Maine, Henderson, Van Winkle, Conness and Morgan. It is believed that many important changes will be made in the leading Committees.

PARSON BROWNLOW IN DANGER.

A special car was assigned Parson Brownlow through to Washington with his friends. The trip was characterized by no incident, except at Charlottsville, Virginia, where a number of young men entered the special car—one, about eighteen years old, with a pistol, who approached the place where the ex-Governor was sleeping, and threatened to shoot him. The pistol, it is said, was wrenched from the youngster's hand, and the party then left.

WILL VACATE.

Secretary Seward and family leave here on Friday for Auburn. President Johnson will vacate the Executive Mansion on Thursday morning. Secretary Welles will retain his present residence until May. Edgar Welles, chief clerk of the Navy Department, will resign to-morrow. It is understood that several chiefs of Bureaus will tender their resignations immediately on the formation of the new Cabinet.

A. J.'S FAREWELL RECEPTION.

The attendance at President Johnson's farewell reception was the largest for a long time, embracing every class and condition of society. The Democratic members of Congress nearly all called, and there were more Republican members present than on any former occasion for two years. The President was in good spirits and constantly engaged in shaking hands.

WHAT OHIO WANTS.

Territorial Governorships are in great demand by Ohio politicians. James M. Ashley is registered for one of them, Wyoming, by most of the Republican members of the House. Follett, of Erie, Dr. Scott, of Warren, and General Potts, of the Legislature, also desire to serve in a gubernatorial capacity. Attorney General West wishes to be Minister to Greece.

RETIRES.

Senator Wade has declared that he should retire to private life from March 4th. He had not desired and would not accept a Cabinet or any other position under General Grant. He intended to retire to Ohio. As to his successor, he said, he should, of course, have preferred a Republican, but, politics aside, he regarded Judge Thurman as a very able man.

MORE PARDONS.

The President to-day pardoned the two Lamars, convicted several years ago by Military Commission of stealing cotton in the South and sentenced to heavy fine and imprisonment.

The pardon papers for Arnold and Spangler are in course of preparation at the Attorney General's office, and may be signed to-night or to-morrow.

CABINET RUMORS.

A new class of names, among them Gen. Dix, were circulated to-day in connection with the Cabinet, but so far, apart from Grant, no one seems to have any certain information on the subject.

NOT AN APPLICANT.

It is not true that Gen. Spinner is an applicant for a foreign mission. He is not an applicant for any position whatever.

CONSUL AT HAVANA.

H. C. Hall, Consul at Matanzas, has taken temporary charge of the United States Consulate at Havana, in pursuance of instructions from Washington.

CROWD IN THE CITY.

The multitude in attendance at the inauguration who have already arrived are engaged in visiting different places of interest through the city.

TO BE RETIRED.

The Secretary of War has ordered Major Howland, of the Second Cavalry, before the Retiring Board at St. Louis.

LAST MEETING.

The last Cabinet meeting under the present Administration was held to-day. The members were all present.

CARL SCHURZ SERENADED.

Carl Schurz was serenaded to-night by the German citizens. He made a brief address.

Memphis Items.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

MEMPHIS, March 2.—S. A. Doran, who recently killed Capt. Ed. Whitfield, was to-day released on three thousand dollars bail.

Maj. Josiah Earle, lately Clerk of the Crittenden Co., Arkansas, Circuit Court, was arrested here to-day on a requisition from Governor Clayton, approved by Governor Brownlow, on a charge of attempting the assassination of a negro man, and was taken by the police to the levee for the purpose of crossing the river, but his friends procured a writ of habeas corpus, which was tried before Judge Lee, of the Common Law Court, this afternoon. He was released on ten thousand dollars bonds till to-morrow, on the ground of informality in the requisition. Forty of the most prominent lawyers of the bar volunteered their services in Earle's behalf.

M. Comb, Jr., claim agent, was arrested this afternoon by the United States Marshal for forging the name of a soldier to a draft.

NEWS BY CABLE.

English Parliament—Mr. Gladstone Introduces a Bill for the Disestablishment of the Irish Church.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, March 2.—In the House of Commons last evening Mr. Gladstone moved for leave to introduce a bill to disestablish the Irish Church, to make provisions for its temporalities and to disendow the Royal College of St. Patrick, at Maynooth. Mr. Gladstone followed up the motion with a speech in defense and in explanation of the provisions of the bill. After commenting on the gravity and importance of the task, he said he was aware of the necessity of giving historical and political reasons for proposing such a constitutional change, reasons which would show the anomaly of the present position and the consciousness of Parliament of the difficulties of such position. The House at times had been induced to waste the property of the Irish Church, so its magnitude might not shock the public mind. It had been necessary at times to support the ascendancy of this Church by the enactment of penal laws. If this ascendancy was maintained, bitter feelings on the part of the Irish people would never cease. Adverting to the previous action on this measure, he said it had resulted in making the House and country unanimous for disestablishment. He would not dwell upon the arguments which had been put forward against it, but he denied that his course was adverse to the welfare of religion and the interests of Protestantism. He denied that it contemplated the invasion of the rights of property, arguing that Parliament, which had the right to create corporations, had an equal right to extinguish them. He referred to the objections to disestablishment, which were based upon the act of union, and answered them by maintaining that the Irish church as at present constituted, defeated the intent of that act, and prevented any real union between the people of England and Ireland. The only means of establishing that union were religious liberty and civil equality. The bill would be a conclusive shutting out of all controversy, but carrying with it no penalty or pain. He proceeded to explain that the bill is intended to go into effect on and after the 1st day of January, 1871, as soon as it has received the Royal assent. A commission will be appointed for a period of ten years, to guard the property of the Church, and to prevent the creation of any new interests. All Ecclesiastical appointments for Ireland hereafter are to be made without freehold; no money is to be employed for permanent purposes. These provisions are to take the place of the suspensory measures passed last year. It is assumed that the clergy and people may have other religious organizations for those which they were about to give up. In such case, the Queen in council would recognize the newly constituted religious bodies, but not create them. The result would be the abolition of ecclesiastical courts and jurisdiction, and of the rights of Bishops to the peerage. All ecclesiastical corporations would be dissolved, and then the disestablishment of the Irish Church would be complete. Provision is made for the clergy who are to receive life annuities, all private endowments to remain intact. The Church is to be handed over to a Council for religious purposes. Grants are proposed for the support of St. Patricks and eleven other cathedrals, these structures being regarded as national property. Churches no longer required are to be handed over to the Board of Works for the benefit of a fund, and burial grounds are to be placed under the charge of the Guardians of the Poor. The Presbyterian clergy are to receive annuities, in lieu of the regium donum, and the Roman Catholic college at Maynooth and the Presbyterian college are to be granted capitalized sums of money. Further legislation is to be had in regard to Trinity college. A tithe rent will be offered to land owners at twenty-two and a half years' purchase. Church leases are to be sold, tenants having the first option. The capitalized value of the Church property is estimated at sixteen million five hundred thousand pounds, of which eight million pounds is to be appropriated to compensation and the remainder, in the words of the preamble to the bill, is to be employed for the advantage of the Irish people, not for the purposes of any church or class, nor for the teaching of religion, but for relief in cases of unavoidable calamity or suffering, while at the same time it is not to cancel the obligations laid upon property for the relief of the poor. Grants are also to be made to provide for the care of lunatics, for the training of nurses and for the support of infirmaries.

Mr. Gladstone proceeded at considerable length to urge upon the House the great results which were to be effected from the passage this measure, in the tranquillity of Ireland and the greater union, security and power of the empire.

Mr. D'Israeli followed and spoke briefly. He said he regarded the policy of the administration in regard to the Irish Church as politically wrong, and the bill as an act of confiscation. But the Government had a right to bring the matter before the House for a full discussion, and he would not oppose the introduction of the bill.

The bill was introduced and read a first time and March 18th appointed for the second reading. The House then adjourned.

The Times to-day says the scheme for the disestablishment of the Irish Church, proposed by Mr. Gladstone, fairly accomplishes the task, and the Government deserves the support of Parliament.

ASIA.

BOMBAY, March 1—via London, March 2.—News has been received here from Central Asia that a son of the dethroned Amor of Cabal has gained possession of two cities in Turkestan, near the Cabal border, and Rahman Khan has gone to join him. It is also reported the garrison in Kohat Towa in Cabal, twenty-five miles from Peshawe, has been surprised by natives and that the British loss was three hundred men killed, wounded and missing.

Nevada Ratifies the Amendment.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, March 2, 1869.

There is every indication that gold has touched its lowest point for the present. It turns out that the shipment of bond were much smaller than was reported, and, as a consequence, coin will soon have to be shipped to pay for imports and the remitting for March interest due to Europe, which is estimated at from two and a half or three million dollars. The general impression that gold would touch a much lower point than it actually reached so far, kept importers and speculators from buying. The passage of the Finance bill was also discounted and should it not pass in the shape amended by the Senate, it will have to lay over for the new Congress, when its passage may be delayed. In such an event a rapid rise in gold could hardly be prevented, although the improved quotations for bonds in Europe would finally settle the future price of gold.

Government bonds were very dull today, and tending downward. The excitement to purchase on Saturday exceeded anything ever witnessed, and to put a check on the bull speculations the principal operators made money scarce, which had the effect of putting a damper on the spirit of further operations for a rise.

Stocks are dull and lower for the entire list, headed by Fort Wayne, Cleveland, Ohio and Erie, the entire Erie clique stock. Express shares are dull, and the upward movement was checked to-day by the general decline of the market.

Business improving slowly but money scarce.

Quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 132½; Silver, 126; Eighty-one's, 115½; Five Twenties, 1862, 117¼; do 1864, 113¾; do 1865, 115; do 1865, Consols, 112¼; do 1867, 112⅝; do 1868, 112½; Ten Forties, 105¾; New York Central, 60½; Erie, ——; Reading; 92⅝; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, 191¼; Ohio & Mississippi, 33½; Michigan Southern, 96¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 89½; Chicago & Rock Island, 125; Chicago & North Western, 81¾; Chicago & North Western Preferred, 90¼; Adams Express Company, 59¼; Merchants Union Express, 15; Pacific Mail, 101¼; Western Union Telegraph Company; 37; Gregory, 2,00; Quartz Hill, 75; Corydon, 10; Smith & Parmele, 1,65; Am. —The Chicago Republican speaking of the farmers in the west holding back their grain in anticipation of higher prices, pertinently remarks: All interested must be aware that last year's crops were abundant and largely in excess of previous years, and that the supply of grain in nearly all sections of the country is fully if not more than sufficient to supply the demands likely to be made upon us from any and all quarters, so that there are no signs favorable to an advance in prices. The winter has been favorable, and there is every indication of an extensive crop of winter wheat, while the prospect of an early seeding of other cereals is bright, and the prospective future clear.

—Regarding the supply of wheat in Minnesota the St. Cloud Journal, of February 18, says:

There is an immense quantity of grain in Northern Minnesota, yet in the hands of the farmers. They seem determined to hold on for $1 for wheat, and will at least await the opening of navigation. Even in the new counties the wheat on hand would seem almost incredible. A gentleman from Monongahela county informed us that he had recently visited a farmer there who had over seven hundred bushels of grain alone in his granary.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Saturday, notices an arrival of 400 fat hogs from Texas. This is a new article to be brought from that country.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.: Gold, 131⅞; United States Sixes, 1881's, 115½; 5-20's, 1862, 117¼; 5-20's, 1864, 113¾; 5-20's, 1865, 115; 10-40's, 105¾; 5-20's Jan'y and July, 1865, 112½, do. 1867, 112⅝; do. 1868, 112½; Seven Thirties, par less ¼; Due Compounds, 119; Ten Forties, 110; Union Pacific Railroad, par; Central, 103; Cy. [By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, March 2, 1869.

Money active and firm, at 7 per cent. on call, with a commission of ⅛ per cent. added after bank hours. Many banks tallied poor and some bankers and brokers were calling in their loans. There is no doubt that the present tendency towards stringency is accelerated by artificial means. The great rise in governments caught many parties short at much lower prices, and they have combined with bears on the general stock list to tighten money and depress bonds and stocks sufficiently for them to cover. The flurry will hardly continue thereafter. Prime discounts, 7½@9. Sterling firmer; large business at 9@9¼; closing at 9¼@9¼ for prime. Banker's sight bills, 9⅛@9⅜; a few produce bills were offering. Gold strong; opened at 132¼; advanced to 132½; fell to 131¾, and closed at 132⅛. The price was affected by every rumor from Washington concerning Mr. Schenck's bill. Loans were made at 3@7 per cent. for carrying. Clearances, $110,000,000.

Governments were unsettled during the morning by reports from Washington ufavorable to Schenck's bill, and prices showed a decline of ⅛@1¼ per cent as compared with yesterday's highest sales; from this there was a recovery of ¼@½ per cent. at noon board, with continued firmness at the two o'clock call. Later in the afternoon the market was again lower and closed barely steady. Coupons of 1881, 115; do. '62, 116¾@117; do. '64, 113⅜@113⅝; do. '65, 114⅜@115; do. new, 112@112½; do. '67, 112⅛@112¼; do. '68, 112¼@112½. 10-40's, 105¾@105⅞.

State Securities dull and lower. Missouris, 87⅝@87¾; New Tennessees, 65½@66; North Carolinas, 59½@60; Louisiana Levee Bonds, 69½.

At the opening stocks were heavy and so continued until after the first regular Board, when the market became steady and a fractional improvement noticed throughout the list. There were large dealings at the 1 o'clock Board in the New York Central, Michigan Southern, Rock Island and Northwestern, and big blocks were pressed for sale at a decline of ¾@1 per cent. The Pacific Mail was an exception and advanced to 101⅜@101½. At the second Board the market was steady, but after call it again became dull and lower, which was followed by a further decline at the last open Board, New York Central falling 1 per cent., Pacific Mail 1¾, Rock Island ⅜, Northwestern ¼@⅜, and Old Southern ⅛. The heaviness continued till the close of the day.

Five-thirty Prices:—Cumberland, 36¾@38; Wells Express, 30¼@30⅜; American, 42¼@42¾; Adams, 59@59⅝; Merchants, 16@17; Quicksilver, 23½@24; Canton, 58½@59¾; Pacific Mail, 99½@99¾; Western Union Telegraph, 36⅝@36¾; Mariposa, 12¾@13; do. pref. 30⅞@31; New York Central, 159@159¼; Erie, 36¼@36½; Hudson, 135¼@136; Reading, 90⅝@90¾; Terre Haute, 37½@38½; do. pref. 65; Wabash, 66¼@66½; do. pref. 77@77½; St. Paul, 65@65¼; do. preferred, 77@77½; Ft. Wayne, 118¾@119; Ohio and Mississippi, 32⅛@33; Michigan Central, 95½@95¾; Illinois Central, 141¾; Toledo, 105@105½; Rock Island, 125¼@125¾; Northwestern, 81¼@81½; do. preferred, 89½@89¾; Lake Shore, 106.

Mining Shares quiet; Gregory, 205; Smith & Parmelee, 150; Quartz Hill, 70; Montana, 42.

Copper Stocks at Boston—Calumet, 50; Copper Falls, 16¼; Franklin, 22½; Hecla, 80; Hancock, 3½; Minnesota, 3¾; Quincy, 34¾.

Receipts at the Sub-Treasury, $1,220,078; payments, $2,429,124; balance, $87,930,325.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, March 2, 1869.

The market very suddenly and unexpectedly took an upward turn this afternoon, which took the whole trade by surprise, and towards evening there was considerable excitiment manifested, though there was but little done. Right on the heels of this came rumors that the bull element was again buying, and this, of course, had tendency to make the market stronger than it would otherwise have been. And this shows how exceedingly sensitive the market is, as the slightest ripple puts the whole trade in a sea of commotion, and for the time being upsets everything, and places the market in such a condition, that is difficult to do anything, as refiners are afraid to name a price, for fear of what is commonly termed being "picked up." Therefore, the advance, although as yet, insignificant, produced considerable excitement, coming as it did entirely unexpected, and as always is the case in the face of an advancing market, there were but few sellers at quotations.

CRUDE—The Crude market closed firmer this evening, although without quotable change,—but little offering and, seemingly but little wanted. Spot oil is quoted at 16½@16¾, 40@45, gravity, and 16¼@16½ for 40 to 46. Future deliveries held at 17, with offers to buy at 16½@16¾. Sale of 2,000 bbls till September at 15 and $400.

REFINED—The Refined market was dull and weak during the first half of the day, but in the afternoon, under the influence of more favorable advices from the East, the market was much stronger and prices were better. Sale of two lots of 1,000 each, for last half of March at 35¾,—later in the day the same delivery was quoted at 36@36¼. "Lines" from March to June or July, which were sold at 36 on Saturday and quoted at 36¼ yesterday, were held this evening at 37. Sale 500 bbls, on cars here, on private terms.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Dry Goods—The prices are generally maintained, the most important change being a decline in Massachusetts J from 13½ to 13. In prints there is no particular change; all first class goods are steady at 12⅛@13⅛, the latter for select styles of Pacific and Merrimack. In worsted there has been a decline in Ristori from 3,75 to 3,50. Other makes, of course, will fall in the same ratio.

BUFFALO, March 2.—Flour dull; sales of 150 bbls No. 2 spring at $6,50. Wheat tends downward; demand very light. Corn quiet and firmer; sales of 15 car loads new at 79@80c on track. Oats nominal at 65c for Western. Rye offered at $1,30; no buyers. Barley firm at $2,10. Pork and Lard steady. High wines nominal at 97c.

CAMBRIDGE, March 2.—Cattle Market—Beef cattle—receipts 222 head, with a light supply, which caused an advance of ¼c; extra $13,50@14; first quality $12,50@13,25; second quality $11@12. Sheep and lambs—receipts 2,370 head and the market firm and ½c higher; sales at $@8.

The Secret Societies of Paris.

First. There is a union, composed of cultivated and aristocratic people, who actually believe that they meet while asleep, in dreams, or in some equally mysterious manner, but in distant lands and wonderful scenes. Before retiring they rub themselves with an ointment which is given them by the leader of the club, the composition of which medicament is guarded as a sacred secret, or swallow certain drugs. Their present chief is a Countess de Caulment, or Camont, a highly accomplished and beautiful woman of thirty, but an incurable tete montee and enthusiast. One of her disciples gravely stated to M. Lopeider that he had met the Countess the night before in the moon. "Why not publish a description of it?" asked the writer. "You could greatly advance the cause of science by your revelations." "I would do so," replied the visionary, "were it not that a repugnance to communicate such knowledge—a terrible repugnance—seizes on us at the first step and increases as we advance. There are moral laws and an irrepressible sense of fitness which insensibly govern humanity. Mankind are not yet morally prepared for an accurate knowledge of the moon's surface." It is very remarkable that M'me de Camont and her disciples converse in their meetings of the scenes where they met, and evince a perfect knowledge of what the others have done.

There is the Society of the Trous Judas—the meanest association on the face of the earth. A trou Judas is a hole bored through a door for the purpose of watching the people within the room, and it is said that an immense number of people provide themselves with gimlets for this purpose. The Society Trou Judas is wealthy, and has an alliance with lodging-house keepers. At their meetings, those who have "interesting" reports read them. This precious union has twice had serious trouble with the police, who watch them closely and, it is said, use their revelations by means of spies. By the way, it may be as well to inform those who propose traveling on La Grande Route, that whenever they take a room on the Continent it is as well to carefully examine all doors and walls; though in many cases the openings are so artfully constructed that it is impossible to detect them.

Another singular society is one founded many years ago by a small and select circle of Russian ladies and gentlemen for the purpose of intoxicating themselves with the Siberian mushroom (Agaricus muscirius). How this is done can be learned from books of travels. The society, which was originally entirely Russian, has not more than fifteen or twenty members, about one-third of whom are at present Russian. It is however said that a M. de Leshter formed an independent club of the same kind, and that his has branches in Marseilles and other cities. M. Lopedier notes it as curious that men soon weary of these mushroom orgies, and that they are more liked by women, in whose organization the intoxication acts more favorably, or at least more agreeably than with the opposite sex. As might be expected, this society takes extraordinary precautions against being discovered.

There is also a club to which no one is admitted unless he has "honorably" killed a man, either in duel, war, or self-defence. It is said that the claim of a certain gentleman to be duly qualified having been doubted by the president of this homicidal society, the former replied by rising in his seat and firing two bullets at the insulter, one of which wounded him severely. He was suffered to remain.

There are Gipsy clubs, clubs of all strange notions, clubs devoted to every vice, and others to every virtue. Perhaps it is true that, after all, no man living, even in Paris, has any idea of what his most intimate friends are about. The Epistolary Club does not even meet; it conducts all its communications by letter. That is to say, those of the lower grades never meet; they are made acquainted by letter by the more advanced, and must always become intimate before they are introduced face to face. The superiors guarantee respectability and absence of deceit. This association is very large, and is conducted by persons in good society.

Moving into New Houses.

That death frequently ensues after moving into a new house is unquestionably true, but examination will prove that it is due to the imprudence of the occupant in many cases. The most frequent cause of such an event is the state of the undried plastering. It is, however, sometimes occasioned by the entire change of habits, which follows what is frequently a decisive step upward in the career of the owner. Sand is used in constructing plaster for the simple reason that when the lime itself hardens there shall be a material dispersed through it as hard as itself. Water is the agent which produces this effect. When that is suddenly absorbed from contact with porus bricks, or from exposure to powerful heats, or to drying winds, the necessary union is not formed, and the material, instead of being mortar, consists of slaked lime and dry sand. When the water is allowed to remain in the mixture the hardening process goes on, but proceeds slowly. A mason, examined as witness in this city some years ago, testified that mortar in a thick wall was twenty or thirty years in acquiring its full solidity. The process is somewhat like that by which nature converts certain materials in the earth into stone.

When plaster is applied to laths it dries rapidly and thoroughly, but yet it is wholly unsafe to inhabit a dwelling only recently plastered. When a house is occupied too soon it is as if the walls consisted of water and the dampness were inhaled at every breath. Very obstinate cases of sickness proceed from this cause.

When sleep is affected by damp walls sore throat or a cold follows in eight or ten days, attended with an extraordinary difficulty of recovery. The main cause, the dampness of the house, is a continuing cause of disease.

Many houses are now being constructed for occupancy in the spring. The assertion that they are thoroughly dried will unquestionably be made by persons having them for sale or to let; and although many of them will be stimulated by ambitious wives and husbands to move into them for the sake of losing no time in making appropriate display, it will be far wiser to wait for a whole year after a house is finished, and use in the winter furnaces, and in the summer drying winds, to render it safely habitable.

Although moving from a dry to a damp house ought to be regarded as a sufficient cause for serious ill-health, there are but few who perceive it, inasmuch as it is the interest of many persons to keep the true cause away from observation, in order that new houses may not remain on their hands unoccupied by tenants, and also that there may be patients needing to be cured.

The condition in this respect of the house into which one designs moving cannot be too carefully weighed, or a new case may be furnished to aid the popular conviction which ignorance so readily assigns in such cases as a cause of death if it occcur.—Harper's Bazar.

The First Court in Butler, Pa.

"The first court held in Butler was held in a log cabin, just raised and covered, but without window sash, or doors or daubing." (The interstices between the logs were generally filled with clay.) "The hall was barely sufficient to contain the bench, bar, jurors and constables. The spectators clambered up the walls, and placing their hands and feet in the open interstices between the logs, hung there, suspended like enormous Madagascar bats. Big John McJunkin, (who until now had ruled at all public meetings,) had placed a foot on one joist and a foot on another, directly over the heads of their honors, standing with outstretched legs like the Colossus of Rhodes. The Sheriff was ordered to clear the walls and joists. He went to work and soon pulled down by the legs those who were in no great haste to obey. McJunkin was the last, and began to growl. "What do you say, sir?" said the Judge. "I say I pay my taxes, and his as good a reete here as iny mon." "Sheriff, Sheriff," bawled the Judge, "bring him before the Court." McJunkin's ire was now up, and as he reached the floor, began to strike his breast, exclaiming, "My name is John McJunkin, d'ye see—here's the heart that never flinched, if so be's 'twas in good cause. I'le stin ony mon a twitch in Butler, if so be he'll clear me o' the la." He was accordingly pinioned and forced to remain silent. Some of the lawyers ventured to plead for mercy. The Judge sentenced him to two hours imprisonment in the county jail. The Sheriff, with much simplicity observed, "May it please the coorte, there is no jail at all at all to put him in." The Judge thereupon entered into a learned dissertation concerning custody, safe and close, mainly for the benefit of the bar. But the moment he had ended, the Sheriff was seized with a lucky thought. "May it please the Coorte, I'me jist thinkin' that may be I kin tak him till Bower's pig pen—the pigs are kilt for the Coorte, an it's empty." "Proceed, sir, proceed and do your duty," was the hearty reply.

A Statue of Lincoln.

Dr. Holland writes as follows in a private letter from Rome:

What do you suppose I went first to see in Rome? Not St. Peter's, nor the Coliseum, but Randolph Rogers' colossal statue of Abraham Lincoln. It was unveiled to the public the morning after my arrival, and I was among the first to pay it attention and homage. It is, without any qualification, a grand success, and the city of Philadelphia, for which it has been modeled, will, after the Munich founders have translated it into bronze, possess in it the finest representation extant of the honored and lamented subject. The figure of Mr. Lincoln was not an elegant one, and the marvel of the statue is that, without the addition of a single fictitious grace, it presents Mr. Lincoln to the eye as a grand man. The figure is seated in a chair, over which is thrown a cloak, and this cloak is the only "accessory." In one hand it holds an open scroll, representing the emancipation proclamation, and in the other a pen. There is nothing else but plain Abraham Lincoln in his frock-coat and trousers. The face, deeply lined, earnest, solemn, sad, tells its own story of the struggle through which he had been brought to the crowning act of his life, and his sense of the importance of the act itself. Such was the effect of the state upon one lady whom I noticed in the little gathering of the Americans present, that she wept during all the time that she remained in the apartment; yet I was assured that she had never seen Mr. Lincoln in her life, and of course was touched by no personal associations. There is but one voice among all the Americans here in regard to this statue, and that is that it fills their noblest ideal of the man it represents, and does the highest honor to the cunning hand and true genius that fashioned it.

EASTER ISLAND.—Considerable attention has been directed in England to a letter published in the Pall Mall Gazette, in reference to Easter Island, a detached spot of land in the Pacific Ocean, about 2,300 miles off the coast of Chili. The island is of volcanic origin, and, with the exception of Pitcairn's Island, is 1,500 miles from any inhabited land. When visited by Captain Cook and by La Perouse, it presented a great number of rude sculptures, which were not to be seen on a subsequent visit by Kotzebue. The recent letter, however, written by an officer on board a British man-of-war, cruising in the South Pacific, and which visited Easter Island, alleges that a search for these sculptures was organized, and that at least 150 colossal images, 30 feet high and 9 feet wide, and weighing from 20 to 30 tons, were discovered. Most of these images have been thrown down on their faces, but in the side of a crater sixteen were found standing upright, guarding, as it were, the silent volcano. Two of the smallest of these images were removed and placed on board the ship, to be sent to the British Museum.

A TOUGH CASE.—In Arkansas, Elder Knapp, while "baptising" converts at a revival meeting, advanced with a wiry, sharp-eyed old chap into the water. He asked the usual question, whether there was any reason why the ordinance of baptism should not be administered. After a pause a tall, powerful-looking chap, with an eye like a blaze, who was leaning on a long rifle and quietly looking on, remarked: "Elder, I don't want to interfere in this yere business any, but I want to say that is an old sinner you have got hold of, and I know that one dip won't do him any good. If you want to get the sin out of him you'll have to anchor him out in deep water over night."

—C. D. Robertson, of the firm of Wood & Robertson, brokers, 30 Broad street, New York, is reported, by his partner, to have absconded with $20,000 in 5-20 bonds of 1867, three certified checks of $10,000 each and 600 shares of various kinds of stock, valued at $46,000. Wood offers a reward of $5,000 for his arrest and the recovery of the securities.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal in ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy. The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or its General Agents.

THE ECONOMY BUTTER CO.

ask the attention of all interested in the reduction of the extravagant cost of Butter, to their practical and economical system of making pure prime Butter by the aid of the

EXTRACT OF BUTTER PLANT.

A brief allusion to the origin of this important discovery may not prove uninteresting. Among the authenticated records of the renowned Captain Cook's voyage around the world, is found the statement, that while sojourning for a short time on the Brazilian Coast of South America, he observed the natives using, in the preparation of their food, a peculiar oil, which, upon examination, he found to possess the appearance, taste and flavor of Butter; upon further inquiry, however, he ascertained that it was simply a substance that the natives distilled in a crude and imperfect manner, from a rich and luxuriant plant that grew spontaneously and abundantly in that warm tropical country. A few years ago, an eminent French chemist, while on a professional visit to the tropics, made numerous experiments with this remarkable production of nature, and succeeded in extracting a concentrated essence of the plant. The formula for its preparation, and the Sole Right for its sale in this country are the exclusive property of this Company, by whom it was purchased from the original discoverer. We claim for this remarkable, yet simple and perfectly harmless preparation—

1st.—That by its use a net gain of from 50 to 200 per cent. is made in the manufacture of Butter.

2d.—That Butter, which from age or whatever cause, may be strong, rancid, streaked or coarse-grained, and comparatively useless for general use, by the aid of this Extract, is restored to its original freshness and sweetness, fine-grain, and even color.

3d.—By the use of this Extract, one pound of delicious, fresh Butter is actually made from one pint of milk.

4th.—That a pure and excellent table Butter can be made, at a cost of from 15 to 20 cents per pound. The chief expense wherein being Butter, which is the essential base.

5th.—That Butter manufactured by the aid of this Extract is equally in every respect to the best Butter made by the ordinary method.

6th.—The Extract after thorough analysis, by able chemists, is pronounced perfectly free from any deleterious substance, the ingredients being purely of a vegetable nature.

8th.—In proof of the foregoing assertions, the factory of this company is making one ton of Butter per day, which meets with ready sale in the New York Mrrket, and is consumed from the tables of the first Hotels, Restaurants and Private families in this city and elsewhere.

A sample package of the Extract (sufficient to make 50 lbs. of Butter) with full directions for use, will be sent to any address on receipt of $1.

CAUTION.—As articles of real merit are subject to spurious imitations, we would specially caution the public against counterfeits and worthless imitations, advertised as powders, compounds, &c., as the Extract of the Butter Plant is prepared and sold only by PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 57@57½f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 132⅛.

THE Philadelphia Press, in its new type, is one of the neatest in appearance of all our exchanges.

THE LEGISLATURE of West Virginia must adjourn to-morrow, but it will first ratify the XVth Amendment.

NEVADA has entered her name as fourth on the list of States ratifying the XVth Constitutional Amendment. The States which have thus far acted upon the measure were officially notified of its passage by regularly certified official telegraphic despatches, and hence, their action cannot be held premature, as some Democratic journals assert.

THE REPUBLICAN members of the House of Representatives held a caucus meeting last night which resulted in the nomination of Mr. BLAINE, of Maine, for Speaker, Mr. MCPHERSON for Clerk, Mr. ORDWAY for Sergeant-at-Arms, Mr. BUXTON, of New York, for Doorkeeper. No nomination was made for Postmaster. It is given out that Mr. DAWES, of Massachusetts, will be appointed by the new Speaker Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations.

OUR PACIFIC STATES would be precluded, by the XVth Amendment, from disfranchising the Mongolian race as a race, but it embodies no prohibition against excluding Chinese, Japanese, or the natives of any other foreign land on the face of the globe. These may still be excluded either as Chinese, &c., eo nominee or, generally, as natives of Asia, but not as of the Mongolian race. The distinction is certainly a fictitious one, but members from the Pacific States preferred it, opposing strenuously the Senate amendment, which specifically forbade exclusion for nativity. As long as the distinction satisfies the prejudices of Nevada or California, we do not care to discuss, here at present, either its logic or its abstract justice.

THE NEW COMMISSIONER of Internal Revenue, Mr. DELANO, was Chairman of the Committee on Claims in the XXXIXth Congress. The country has never had an adequate idea of the vast amount of claims from which, in that capacity, he was instrumental in protecting the Treasury. Every form of influence, personal and official, proper and improper, was brought to bear upon him and his Committee, to secure their approval of the plausible demands of the claimants, but he uniformly turned a deaf ear to solicitations which, if successful, would have more than doubled our National debt. We speak by the book, for we have the best authority for this statement. This was the very man whom GRANT wanted, to take care of the revenue-pirates, and he will do it, to the satisfaction of everybody but themselves.

THE INAUGURAL.

The new President takes office at noon to-morrow, when, after subscribing to the constitutional oath, he will deliver an inaugural address. This, if modeled after his characteristic style, will be more remarkable for its pertinency than for its length. The day for prolix State papers has gone by, for four years and we hope longer. The utterances of President GRANT to-morrow, before the vast audience drawn from every quarter of the Republic to witness his investiture with power, cannot but have an especial significance, as revealing a renewed expression of his views of Executive duties and responsibilities.

We are not among those who are anxiously waiting for an inaugural announcement of his policy. We know, already, that our new President will have none other policy than that to which he has more than once pledged his administration—a policy of the faithful execution of all national legislation and international treaties. Beyond this, we look for nothing but a brief but explicit re-affirmation of the cardinal principles of Loyalty, Honesty. Justice and Liberty, as the guiding points of his Executive trust, and which he will commend to his countrymen as embracing the whole duty of each good citizen of the Republic. When, in due time, the President addresses himself to Congress, he will make such special recommendations as the Constitution enjoins and his sense of public duty may prompt. But we need expect nothing of this sort in the inaugural of to-morrow. No one knows what he will say—for he has been as reticent in that regard as upon his appointments to office—but past experience, of General GRANT's character and habits of thought and speech, is such as to foreshadow what he will not say.

As to both the Inaugural Address and the Cabinet, the public are as much in the dark as ever. We have known, for the week past, that SCHOFIELD would retain the War-Office, and that Pennsylvania and Massachusetts would have other departments. Beyond that, we know nothing.

REACTION IN ENGLAND.

There was a period, of long duration, when the manufacturers of Great Britain unanimously advocated Governmental Protection to the various industries in which they were engaged. At first this Protection, in accordance with their solicitations, was extended in the form of direct bounties, afterwards in the shape of imposts upon foreign competing articles. After a while they became conscious that they had surrounded themselves, or been encompassed by the course of events, with advantages superior to those existing elsewhere; that is to say, they had perfected their machinery, beyond all precedent, multiplying many-fold the power of fabrication; had accumulated capital to an extent that carried interest on money to a much lower point than in any other nation; and had been farther aided by a redundancy of laborers which reduced the wages both of skilled workmen and of common hands to the lowest pitch at which the means of human subsistence were attainable.

Such a body of manufaaturers could well afford to espouse the doctrine of Free Trade, and that is just what they did. Having reached a point where competition with them seemed to be impossible, they expatiated on the excellence of discountenancing all sorts of Protection, of welcoming by the removal of impediments to trade, the results of discriminating legislation, and of asserting practically the unity and interdependence of all the races of men. To superficial thinkers, there was not a little of this talk that sounded pleasantly, and exhaled an odor of humanitarianism.

At last the British Government, which had been the staunchest champion of protection, nominally accepted the Free Trade system of political economy, and ostentatiously invited all other Governments to do so. But it was careful not to abolish its custom houses or dismiss the numerous corps of officials who kept watch against the importation of foreign merchandise without the payment of duties. It did, indeed, modify its tariff of imposts so as to meet the conditions of its industry, but that was all. It adhered to discriminations in favor of its own people as rigidly as ever before; only the progress of events had enabled it to dispense with certain discriminations which had become inoperative.

Twenty years have produced still farther changes, and British manufacturers are now turning slowly, but certainly, towards protection. Several months ago, we gave some accounts of its movement among the makers of iron and machinery. Now it appears that the manufacturers of cotton goods, even in Manchester, are dissatisfied with the degree of Free Trade, deceptive as it is, under which they are toiling.

What is the matter with these people? There has been no absolute falling away in the perfection of their machinery, no diminution in their supply of capital, no scarcity in the supply of operatives, no decadence in the excellence or supremacy of their commercial marine. What, then, has wrought the change apparent in their wishes and purposes? Simply this, that other nations, our own included, have advanced in the arts of productive industry; have skilled their laborers, improved and multiplied their machinery, accumulated capital, and are consequently prepared to compete with British producers on equal terms, or something akin thereto.

And this may be justly taken as only the commencement of this movement. In proportion as other nations come up to the point where their manufacturing classes can meet the same British classes on equal conditions, will the demand of the latter for protection grow louder and louder, until Free Trade, even in semblance, shall be set aside as a delusion, and the system of Protection be proclaimed in all its fullness and rigor. It will not be long to wait for the accomplishment of this change. Let those who are interested watch for its early consummation.

THE POLLARD MURDER.

Richmond telegrams have already apprised our readers of the extent to which men in that city and county have disqualified themselves for sitting as jurors in the trial of GRANT for the killing of POLLARD. The facts of this slaughter will be remembered. POLLARD was the editor of a newspaper, and in the management thereof indulged in a wide and gross license in dealing with individuals and their affairs. Nor was he at all scrupulous as to the age, sex or position of the persons he held up to derision or contempt. His purpose seemed to be to create a sensation, so as to keep his journal in notice; and there were, besides, indications that he was actuated, to a considerable degree, by morbid dislike of almost everybody. GRANT's sister was coarsely assailed by POLLARD, without cause, and in revenge for that assault, as is alleged, GRANT shot POLLARD dead as he was entering his office the following morning. The case was calculated to excite intense feeling; and hence it is not wonderful that difficulty is experienced, under the rules now existing, in obtaining jurors to try the accused. But, it is not our purpose to comment upon that rule, or the trouble to secure a jury under it.

The New York Times holds that it is evidence of "a half-civilized or barbarous state of society" that a man aggrieved as GRANT was, should take redress into his own hands. We are by no means inclined to dispute that inference or conclusion. No better proof of barbarism, or, at least, of a low condition of civilization, can be adduced than the fact that men feel constrained to be their own avengers rather than trust to such administration of penal justice as can be obtained through the public authorities. But it seems to us that the Times overlooks one very important fact in its consideration of this matter. Such license as POLLARD exercised in the conduct of his journal, without interference from the authorities, furnishes quite as uncontrovertible evidence of the barbarism of Richmond society, as did his slaughter by one upon whose rights and feelings he had ruthlessly trampled.

And this illustrates what we have repeatedly urged, that if, either through the laws or the operation of public opinion, editors are to be granted impunity in publishing what they will concerning private individuals, or relative to the private concerns of public men, the persons aggrieved ought to be left at liberty to adopt such measures of redress as shall appear to them suitable. We know this savagery is barbarism; but so is the evil for which this savagery is the natural remedy. No man, unless debased in his instincts, would tamely submit to such an outrage as POLLARD inflicted upon the members of the GRANT family. Both the laws and the community are at fault when such outrages can be perpetrated with complete, or very nearly complete impunity. That is the point where the barbarism comes in; and, hence, that is the point at which there is most need to have an efficient remedy applied.

THE COUNTRY will thank the Senate for its refusal to adopt Mr. SHERMAN's resolution for a recognition of Cuban independence. However we might have been induced to deal with the old Spain of a BOURBON despotism, in behalf of a province struggling for its political freedom, it becomes a radically different question when we are asked to countenance a causeless revolt against the authority of the new Spain of liberal and progressive ideas. For it would be but an indifferent welcome which the Great Republic would thus offer to the development of republican ideas in Europe, to improve the occasion for stripping the people of Spain of their most valuable territorial possession. Such would be the substantial effect of our approval of the Cuban revolt.

As for any American recognition of belligerent rights, it is becoming for us to remember what injustice we have ourselves suffered from the premature and unfriendly exercise of this sovereign prerogative by other powers not long ago. Let us be in no hurry to imitate the invidious example!

THE annexed paragraph from the New York Tribune affords a striking illustration of the magnitude of what are styled the whisky-frauds on the revenue. Says that journal, apropos to the President's resolution to stop all that cheating:

In the year 1866, when the tax upon distilled spirits was $2 per gallon, and the amount collected was twenty-nine millions of dollars, one of the largest of our commission merchants, who had at the time thousands of barrels of whisky in his storehouse said that if the Government would give him the right to collect the tax, he would engage to pay the whole interest upon the public debt. Now this interest for that year was one hundred and thirty-three millions, and the gentleman referred to was at once thoroughly acquainted with the trade, and eminently capable of estimating its amount and the amount of tax honestly due upon it. The presumption in favor of his opinion is clear from the fact that only sixty-seven millions of gallons should have paid the interest, which would have left him at least eighty millions of dollars to pay the expense of collection and give his profit. If President Grant puts his resolution into full force, at the present rate of duty he will squeeze half the interest on our debt out of the manufacturers and dealers in intoxicating liquors.

THE division of Texas is earnestly recommended by General CANBY, the Military Commander, who states his belief that:

This measure will finally disperse and demoralize the disloyal element and give us a separation of the State which will bring us the rest, peace and prosperity which we have for years been striving to secure.

AN IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT.—There has recently been introduced in Martin's Ferry a new machine for illuminating gas from coal. It can be applied to all classes of heating stoves and every variety of furnace. The gas can be manufactured at a cost of 50 cents per 1,000 feet. It was invented by a young Hoosier, Mr. J. W. Brown, and is known as "Brown's Domestic Gasometer." One of them may be seen in operation at the store of Conrad Long, Martin's Ferry. It is an ingenious invention.

—The city election in Des Moines, Iowa, on Monday, resulted in the choice of J. H. Hatch, Republican, for Mayor, over Shafford, Democrat, the present incumbent, by thirty five majority. Most of the city officers are Republicans.

THAT PARK.

EDITORS GAZETTE: I am not a citizen of Pittsburgh; but if I were, I should oppose and vote against the purchase of ground for a large Park away out where such a thing is not needed, and will not be for a generation to come. It would be very nice for a few near it, and for another few who have the means to reach it in carriages; but to the great majority of the dwellers in the densely populated portions of the city, and who really need breathing places, it will be of no more use than if it were on the summit of the Allegheny mountains.

I should say, never mind that. There is already plenty of fresh air, and there are abundance of trees in that beautiful and romantic suburb where it is proposed to do this thing; but instead of that, buy a little ground where the Allegheny and Monongahela come together and make a little more by filling; then let the ground thus obtained be made as beautiful and shady as possible. Cut it up by as many serpentine walks—not drives—as good taste will allow, and then let the sweltering dwellers in our crowded streets, who really need fresh air, get free access to it. Do that, and you will have something, however humble, that will really conduce to the health and enjoyment of those who need something of the kind. The cost will be trifling compared with the other project, and the results much more profitable. UTILITARIAN.

Washington Items.

IT IS understood that all the Cabinet officers, except General Schofield and Attorney General Evarts, have officially tendered the resignation of their portfolios to President Johnson, and that they will be accepted. In the meantime their respective departments will be left in charge of officials next in rank as acting Secretaries.

GEN. GRANT states that the remark attributed to him by Colonel McClure, that though he was elected by the Republican party, he is not a party man, is calculated to do him injustice; and although he does not desire to charge Mr. McClure with intentionally misrepresenting him, he does not want to be considered as untrue to the rights of the party and the men who elected him.

GEN. GRANT stated again, as he has before stated, that he will appoint a Commissioner of Indian Agairs and a Commissioner of Internal Revenue on his own responsibility, but in the case of all the other bureau officers he will take the advice of his Cabinet members, and expects them to select men who will serve the Government faithfully and effectively.

MR. DEDANO takes the hardest position in the entire Government. On this place, while fighting the late Andrew Johnson, we piled the heaviest responsibility and work that attach to any place in the country. The Commissioner comes in contact directly with the biggest rings and the boldest and most adroit scoundrels we are afflicted with. Mr. Delano, happily, possesses the neeessary ability, honesty, and, let us hope, courage.

The latest rumor in relation to Gen. Grant's Cabinet is that the War Department is the one allotted to Pennsylvania, and in consequence that the curiosity regarding the coming man from that State will not be gratified until after GEN. Schofield's retirement.

There is a general desire for a reconciliation between the incoming and outgoing President, so as to give practical effect to Gen. Grant's "Let us have Peace" platform. President Johnson has been sounded upon the subject, and is willing to accept overtures, but the busybodies hesitate to approach Gen. Grant in reference to it, the General being known to entertain very strong feelings in reference to the circumstances of the original estrangement.

Death of John Ericsson.

John Ericsson, the inventor of the caloric steam engine, the screw propeller, the builder of the celebrated "monitor," and the originator of various scientific theories and mechanical appliances, died in Richland, New York, on Thursday last, from hydrophobia, produced by the bite of a dog, inflicted a month ago.

Mr. Ericsson was the son of a miner in Wermeland, Sweden, and was born in 1803. He distinguished himself even in his boyhood by his mathemathical acquirements and constructive skill, and before he was sixteen years old, it is said, was charged with the duty of laying out work for six hundred men on the Grand Canal of Sweden. He subsequently entered the army, but in about six years left it to introduce in England an engine of somewhat the same character as his later "caloric engine." There he introduced his idea of an artificial draft for engines to dispense with large smoke stacks, and save fuel, and made in seven weeks a locomotive that won the prize for speed and lightness.

In 1833 he introduced his caloric engine to public notice, but it did not succeed until about ten or twelve years ago. It is now extensively used where the power is not great. He also, at a later day, made known in England his invention of the screw propeller for ships. He met with no success in England, and came to this country, in 1839, to introduce it here, and here he has lived ever since.

His propeller was adopted for the Princeton some twenty-five years ago, and is now the great rival of the paddle-wheel. In 1861 Ericsson built the Monitor, the fame of which will not soon be forgotten. In person he was strongly and heavily built, and of great physical endurance. His face showed firmness and resolution, but not so strongly as his life. Against material obstacles, envy and ridicule, he has fought nearly all his active life, and now the public owe to an apparently trifling accident the loss of one of our greatest inventors and mechanical workers.

IN addition to the utmost neatness in washing the milkroom and all vessels used for milk and cream, the Prarie Farmer recommends that dishes containing pulverized charcoal be placed about the room to absorb ammonia and other gases that cannot be otherwise removed. The charcoal should be freshly prepared, and by heating it after it has become partially saturated with gases, they are driven off and the charcoal rendered as effectual as at first.

THE fall of snow in Canada this winter so far has exceeded any previous snowfall for twenty years past, by thirty inches. According to a published statement, the depth of snow which has fallen at Montreal is one hundred and eighteen inches, or nearly ten feet, and is now eight feet deep in the streets of that city.

Birmingham Council.

Last evening there was a regular monthly meeting of the Council of the borough of Birmingham held at Burgess Salisbury's office.

Members present—Messrs. Atterbury, McIlwaine, Ward, Redman, Welker, Kerr, Ihmsen and Burgess Salisbury.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Ihmsen, Chairman of the Finance Committee, reported that he had examined the accounts of the various borough officers and found them to be correct, except the report of Mr. Kunzler, Market Master, which the officer had been instructed to make perfect.

The Burgess stated that he had received a notice from the Street Regulator setting forth that the debris on Harmony street had not been removed; that the work of paving said street had left a quantity of rubbish; and that a final settlement with the contractors should be postponed until the street was properly cleaned.

The estimate of grading, curbing and paving the above street is as follows: Grading, 3,522 cubic yards; curbing, 1,364¼ lineal feet; paving, 3,213½ square yards.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Street Regulator, a final settlement was postponed for the present. Bradford & Co. are the contractors.

A communication from Mr. A. Patterson was presented, proposing to furnish numbers for all the houses in the borough and attach them in proper order at twenty-five cents per plate. The numbers to be cut on iron plates 2½ by 5 inches, with raised figures two inches long, the entire plate to be japanned black and the face of the figures to be afterwards painted yellow or some other bright color.

The communication was referred to a Special Committee.

The Burgess cause to be read the following petition:

To the Burgess, etc.

The petition of T. W. Briggs, President of the Monongahela Valley Railroad Company, on behalf of said Company, respectfully represents: That the said Monongahela Valley Railroad Company is a body corporate, created under and by virtue of certain acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and duly authorized and empowered under said acts of incorporation "to construct a railroad from a point at or near Pittsburgh, by such route as the Board of Directors may determine, to a point at or near Monongahela City, Washington county, and thence up either bank of the Monongahela river, to a point at or near what is known as Rice's Landing, with power to construct such branches as the Directors may deem necessary," etc. Your petitioner therefore prays your honorable body to pass an ordinance granting to the said Monongahela Valley Railroad Company the right and privilege of locating, constructing and maintaining their said railroad over, along and across such streets, alleys, ways and grounds in the Borough of Birmingham as may be found necessary and desirable, in conformity with the laws of the Commonwealth, and subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as may be found necessary for the protection and safety of persons and property in said Borough. And your petitioner, for himself and in behalf of said Company, will ever pray, &c.

T. W. BRIGGS, President.

On motion, the communication was referred to a Special Committee, consisting of Messrs. Ihmsen, Atterbury and Kerr, with instructions to meet the Directors of said Company in reference to the proposed route.

The clerk read an ordinance changing names of streets as follows: Oliver street to Sixth street; Gregg to Seventh; Joseph to Eighth; Ewing to Ninth; McKee to Tenth; Grosvenor to Eleventh; Denman to Twelfth; Ormsby to Thirteenth; Wilkins to Fourteenth; Center to Fifteenth; Perry and Franklin to Sixteenth; Harmony to Seventeenth.

On motion of Mr. Kerr, the ordinance was adopted.

The following bills were ordered to be paid: Dispatch, advertising, $4.65; A. Kent, repairing tools, $11.65; J. C. Shaffer, tools, $2.05; Regulator, $50. The other officers' salaries were also ordered to be paid.

On motion, Council adjourned to meet next Tuesday evening.

Railroad Accident in Vermont.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MONTREAL, March 1.—The Montreal train, which left New York Friday afternoon, was thrown from the track, owing to a defective rail, near Pittsford, Vt., on the Rutland & Burlington Railroad, at 2 o'clock A. M. on Saturday. The sleeping car was hurled down a steep slope some thirty feet, near the banks of Cotter river. The car was wrecked, but no lives were lost, although several passengers were injured. Gen. Averill, U. S. Consul General to Canada, received some severe cuts and bruises on his head.

A MALARIOUS MONTH.

March, that gives us a new President, is also the inaugural month of many harrassing disorders. Entangled in its fogs are the seeds of coughs, colds and of that alteration of frigidity and fire, more widely known than admired, called fever and ague. The only way to avoid these "little unpleasantnesses," is to render the system strong enough to fight off the atmospheric poison that produces them, and the best way to endow it with this repellant power is to tone it with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

If a wayfarer were credibly informed that a ruffian was waiting at the next corner, he would doubtless turn in his tracks, and take a safe route to his destination. With just about the same amount of trouble, the attacks of disease prevalent at this season may be evaded. Nay the trouble will be less, for drug stores lie in every one's route, and every respectable druggist in the Union keeps on hand HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. The article is a staple of trade, and it would be as easy to find a grocery without sugar, as the store of an apothecary without this popular tonic remedy.

In view of the experience of the nation, with regard to the article, during the space of twenty years, it seems almost unnecessary to recapitulate its merits to Americans. But as our population is increasing at the rate of a couple of millions in a year, in the natural way and by immigration, it may be as well to hint to the rising generation and new arrivals, (the old settlers know all about it,) that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the most wholesome and potent vegetable tonic ever manufactured, that is a specific for debility, dyspepsia, biliousness and miasmatic fevers, that it prevents, as well as cures, those complaints and their complications: that it is not "bad to take," and is absolutely harmless.

THE SOUND OF THE LUNGS.

One of the most accurate ways of determining whether the lungs are in a healthy or diseased condition, is by means of listening to the respiration. To those experienced in this practice it becomes as plain an index to the state of the lungs, and is as well known to the operator as are the voices of his most intimate acquaintances. The belief that long standing coughs, and diseases of the lungs upon which they are dependent, are incurable, are fast becoming obsolete. One great advantage to be gained from this advance in medical knowledge is the earlier application of those who become afflicted with those diseases to some one competent to afford relief. The error which had taken hold of the public mind in regard to the curability of consumption, or rather non-curability, is fast becoming obliterated, and it is well that it should be so, not that persons should lose that salutary fear which would make them apply for a timely remedy, but that all might be induced to use remedies while there is any hope. It is the delay in these cases that fills us with apprehension and alarm, for if every one would make timely application of DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE in the beginning of a cold or cough, few cases would go so far as to become irremediable.

Sold at the Doctor's great Medicine Store, No. 140 Wood street. WILL SHORTLY REMOVE TO HIS NEW STORE, NO. 16 LIBERTY STREET, SECOND DOOR FROM ST CLAIR.

DR. KEYSER'S RESIDENT OFFICE FOR LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND THE TREATMENT OF OBSTINATE CHRONIC DISEASES, No. 140 PENN STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA. Office Hours from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M., and from 7 to 8 at night.

THE MARCH MAGAZINES.

The Atlantic continues Malbone, Mr. Higganson's somewhat original but curiously interesting romance. "The Small Arabs of New York" give a painful low life view of metropolitan schools of juvenile crime, encouraged by the public neglect. Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe contributes a fifth paper on "Co-Operative Housekeeping," and another, in which little Captain Trott illustrates the despotism of the baby in a well regulated household. Dr. Bowditch supplies a closing article on "Consumption in America," which, like the proceeding papers on the same subject, shews that sanitary information freely popularized, can do more to prevent that malady than the skill of the profession to cure it. Whittier's "Howard at Atlanta" tells in his vigorous verse, the story of the first movement for the instruction of the freedmen.

The Galaxy begins Reade's new story of "Put Yourselves on his Place," which promises to maintain the reputation of that popular author. "Susan Fielding," by Wm. Edwards, and "Cipher," by Miss Austin, are also continued, the latter to be completed in April. In "Women as Voters" Mrs. Julia Ward Howe expresses the views of the most cultured woman, who has yet taken ground publicly in America, in favor of suffrage for women. "Will Murder Out?" is answered "Not Always," by a writer, whose citations, of well known cases still shrouded in mystery, prove that the most atrocious crimes may successfully baffle enquiry for the perpetrators. Elliott's article on horse growers and their fancy stock, will interest the admirers of such animals. This number is fully up to the standard which the Galaxy has attained so successfully as to give it the second largest circulation among American magazines.

The Riverside is unquestionably the best of our magazines for the young. In illustrations and text, it is worthy of Hurd & Houghton's press. Among the contributors are Hans Christien Andersen, Mary N. Prescott, Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. Stowe, Porte Crayon and nearly every other popular writer.

Onward, Capt. Mayne Reid's new venture, improves as it grows. The second number exhibits a marked improvement, and announces an established success. The magazine promises to be deservedly a favorite with a very large class of readers, neither boys nor men, whose taste for adventure has given Capt. Reid's publications such widespread popularity.

RUSSIAN RAILROADS.—The St. Petersburg journals announce that the Czar, on the recommendation of the Minister of Public Works, has authorized a corps of engineers to proceed with the leveling and other surveys required for a railway between the Caspian Sea and Lake Aral. The projected line, it is stated, in uniting two of the largest rivers, the Volga and the Sir Daria (Jaxartes,) will serve as a bond of Union between Russia and Central Asia from a commercial, strategical, and political point of view.

IF THE new French invention for converting old print paper into clean white paper for use again succeeds, we suppose newspapers will be sold as the dealers sell wine, with a reduction on the rates if the bottles are returned. Newspaper files will become precious, and great care will be taken in reading and handling the morning journal.

The Manufacture of Paintings by the "Old Masters."

BY JAMES PARTON.

There is one class of picture-dealers and picture-makers whom this beautiful process of chromo-lithography will seriously injure. I mean those who make and sell the landscapes which are offered at the New York ferries for five dollars a pair, gilt frames and all; also those who sell at auction "splendid oil paintings collected in Italy by a well known connoisseur recently deceased." Some of these fine works, I am informed by one who has done them (a German artist whom poverty and ignorance of the English language compelled for a few months to misuse his brush in this way,) are executed a dozen at a time, and are paid for by the dozen. Twelve canvasses are set up in a large garret room. The painter, with paint pot in one hand and brush in the other, goes his rounds; first, putting in all the skies; next, perhaps, all the grass; then, his trees; and, finally, dots in a few cows, sheep, children and ladies. A good hand can execute a very superior dozen in a week, for which, in these dear times, he may get as much as twenty dollars. Before the war, the established price for a good article of an oil painting was twelve dollars a dozen, and find your own paint.

The principal manufactory in the United States, of this description of ware, is in a certain Broad and noisy street of a city that need not be named. It is styled by its proprietor "The American Art Gallery for the Encouragement of Art and Young Artists"; but, among the unhappy young men who earn a sorry livelihood by plying the brush therein, the establishment is called "The Slaughter-House," and its master "The Butcher." This man of blood was once an auctioneer in a street that has little in common with the illustrious orator and statesman whose name it bears, wherein persons in needy circumstances can either sell superfluous or buy indispensable garments. It is now his boast that he is the "greatest patron of fine arts in America," and his ways of patronizing art are various. He will have pictures painted by a young artist whose necessities are urgent, which he will keep as part of his stock in trade. In a room partitioned off from "The American Art Gallery" just mentioned he has a number of "hands" multiplying copies of these pictures as fast as the brush can dab on the paint. These "hands," to whom he pays weekly wages which average less than the wages of laborers, acquire by incessant practice a dexterity in making the copies that is truly remarkable. Besides these, he has outdoor hands, who, like journeymen tailors, take their work home and do it by the piece. The pictures are offered for sale in the Gallery; but as they accumulate rapidly, the proprietor holds an auction every few weeks, either of the Old Masters or of Great Living Artists. The auctions take place by turns, in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Chicago, St. Louis, and San Francisco. The Californians, my German artist says, are liberal patrons of the "American Art Gallery for the Encouragement of Art and Young Artists," the sales in San Francisco being both frequent and profitable. Even to Australia, on the other side of the globe, consignments of these precious works are sent from the Gallery in the nameless city. The pictures offered at auction sales are frequently advertised and declared to be "original oil paintings by native artists, from the American Gallery for the Encouragement of Art and Young Artists." The frame is, of course, an item of the first importance in this kind of picture. The butcher manufactures his own frames, and takes care that they shall be splendid. This is probably the secret of his success; for what is there dearer to the heart of man and woman than a gorgeous parlor? This amiable passion burns in the breast of every true American, and it is this which creates the demand for splendid gilt frames with something in them that looks like a picture.—Atlantic Monthly for March.

Heating Railway Cars.

The Lake Shore Railroad Company having adopted a new patent heater for cars, are putting them in as fast as possible. The heater is an arrangement of gas pipe which passes entirely around the car near the floor, with branches under every seat. This connects at one end with a coil of pipe placed in a stove, particularly arranged for it. Water is then forced into the pipe throughout its whole length, and a fire built in the stove. In the course of an hour the water becomes hot, and thus an even heat is diffused throughout the whole car. One great advantage in heating cars by this patent, is that the heat is not only even but it is at the bottom of the car, just where it is most needed.

As fast as a car goes to the shop for repairs this new heater is put in, so that in the course of a few months every passenger car on the road will be heated in this manner.

All unite in saying that it is a great improvement over the old style, and besides it is safer, as in case of an accident what little fire there is in the stove would be put out by water, which would run out whenever the connection of the pipes is severed. The patentee is the editor of an Iowa weekly journal.—Cleveland Herald.

Cement.

A correspondent communicates a recipe for a cement used in the kingdom of Tunis for lining water cisterns, and remarkable for its firm and compact character. The Tunisian masons take two parts of wood ashes, three of lime and one of fine sand, which, after being well sifted and mixed together, they beat for a long time with wooden mallets, sprinkling the composition alternately and at proper times with a little oil and water, until it becomes of a due consistence. This cement is chiefly used in arches, cisterns and terraces. But the pipes of the aqueducts in Tunis are joined by beating tow and lime together with oil only, without any mixture of water. Both these compositions, it is stated, quickly assume the hardness of stone, and suffer no water to pervade them. Our correspondent states that he prepared this mixture sixteen years ago, using hickory ashes and linseed oil, and that the cement has remained hard and unimpaired during that period of time.

THE famous New York Assessor, Mr. Webster, who is bringing the bankers and brokers to time, is an old newspaper man, and having passed through the experience of a journalist, is not to be lightly scared, or easily bribed. He is the first officer the Government has had in New York for some time who, knowing his duty, does it without fear or favor.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, March 2, 1869.

It is not a little remarkable that while Flour and Wheat are lower than they have been for several years, having declined fully fifty per cent., compared with the prices prevailing two years ago, Sugars and Provisions are almost as high in value as at any time during the war. It is admitted on all sides that the supply of the two last named articles is comparatively light while the supply of the former is unusually heavy, but the question as to whether the difference in the supplies is sufficient to justify the great difference in values, is an important one, and one in which all are more or less interested. And another very important problem is, whether Flour is likely to appreciate or is there a probability of Sugars and Provisions depreciating. Already Bacon, Lard, and almost everything emanating from the Hog product has experienced a slight reacation, and Hogs, too, have declined materially, and may not the same thing take place in the Sugar market? We admit that the indications do not point very forcibly in that direction just now, but then the same thing was true of the Provision market thirty days ago. In regard to Flour, it looks now as if there was but very little chance of an advance, but a good deal depends on the next Wheat crop, and it is too early to indulge in conjectures on this point.

APPLE BUTTER—Firmer: 80@90c.

APPLES—In fair demand and limited supply. May be quoted at $4@$6, for common to choice.

BUTTER—There is considerable inquiry for prime to choice Roll, and we now quote at 40@43.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Dull at 3½.

BEANS—Firmer and in better demand, with sales at $3,75@$3,85, for prime small white.

CRANBERRIES—Sales at $18 to $22.

CORNMEAL—$1 to $1,10 per bushel.

CHEESE—Sales of Western at 22c, and New York Goshen, at 23½@24c.

CARBON OIL—Is a shade easier but unchanged at 33@33½, in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches steady at 14@15 for quarters; 16@17 for mixed, and 18@20 for halves, as to quality. Apples 11@12 cts.

EGGS—Coninue to arrive freely and prices are barely maintained, 23@24 for fresh packed—Sale 50 bbls to go to New York at the inside quotation.

PROVISIONS—A shade firmer but not quotably higher. Shoulders 14¾@15. Ribbed Sides 17@17¼; Clear Sides 18@18½, and Hams 19½@20. Lard, 20½ in tierces, and 21@21½ in kegs. Mess Pork $33,00@$33,50.

POTATOES—Very dull and cannot be quoted above 80 cts for small lots in store.

PEANUTS—10 cts per lb.

No change in Oats—65@66 on track and 67@68 in store. Rye is in steady demand at $1,45@$1,46—but few buyers above $1,45. Corn is quiet and unchanged, 75@80. Barley may be quotod at $2,10@2,20 for prime to choice State, and $2,45 for prime Canada.

SEEDS—Small sales of Clover Seed at $10@10,50, as to quality, and Timothy at $3,50; Flax Seed is firmer and we now quote at $2,45@$2,50.

SORGHUM—60@70 cts.

SALT—Is quiet but steady, and is still quoted at $2 by the car load.

FEATHERS—Live Geese Feathers quoted at 75@80cts, to the trade, and the usual advance in a retail way.

FLOUR—We can report moderate receipts and a fair local demand, but no change in prices. Spring Wheat $7,00@$7,50, and Winter Wheat at $8,00@8,50. Rye Flour $7,50. The Pearl Mill quote their best brands made of the best Wheat, as follows: Extra Family Flour, in barrels, at $9,30, and, in sacks, $9,00 per barrel; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $10,00, and, in sacks, $9,70 per barrel; Spring Wheat Flour, in barrels, $7,80, and, in sacks, $7,50 per barrel. The City Mills quote prices as follows: Extra Family, (Winter) in barrels, $9,30, and, in sacks, $9,00 per barrel; Double Extra Family, in barrels, $9,80, and, in sacks, $9,50 per barrel, and Spring, $8,00, in barrels, and $7,70, in sacks, per barrel.

WHISKEY—High wines dull and are a shade easier, and may now be quoted, in a jobbing way, at 94@95,

LARD OIL—May be quoted at $1,35@. $1,37 for No. 2, and $1,68@$1,70 for No. 1.

TALLOW—Reudered, 12c.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather continues cloudy and cold with indications of snow. In the evening, the wind was fair from the west, and the mercury was stationary at 38. The river continues to recede steadily, with four feet six inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks, and the ice in the Allegheny was not so heavy and more scattered.

There has been no arrivals since the date of our last report and the Julia, No. 2, for Zanesville, was the only departure.

The Bavard did not get off yesterday, it having been found impossible to get her engines in readiness.

The Grey Eagle, Capt. C. L. Brennan, is the regular packet for Parkersbug today, leaving at noon.

Capt. Joseph Lytle has succeeded Capt. Thomas Poe, in command of the Camelia, and is now loading her for Nashville. Capt. Poe found it necessary to stop off and superintend the construction of his new mountain boat.

The following boats are announced as follows: R. C. Gray, Capt. Whittaker, for Cincinnati and Louisville; Bellevernon, Capt. Darragh, for New Orleans: Sallie, Capt. T. S. Calhoun, for Missouri River, and Maggie Hays, Capt. B. C. Martin, for St. Louis. These are all first class boats.

The following boats were in port last evening: Bavard, America, Silver Lake No. 4, Maggie Hays, Savanna, Mary Davage, Sallie, Bellevernon, Camelia, Carrie V. Kountz, and R. C. Gray.

The Savanna, Capt. Isherwood, is now ready to make engagements for the Upper Mississippi.

—Heretofore competition has existed between the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg and the Wheeling and Parkersburg packets. The former line is represented by the steamers Grey Eagle and Bayard, and the latter by the Rebecca and Express. Neither line seems to have gained on the other, and both have been plucky. To have compromised in some way so that fair rates might be secured by both would have been a source of profit. We understand that this end is now likely to be attained. Representatives of the two lines were to have met at Wheeling on Friday last to arrange for a consolidation.—Cincinnati Gazette.

The conference took place as above announced, but, as yet, we understand nothing final has been agreed upon.

—A curious case was decided in the Circuit Court at St. Louis Friday. It is one of interest to river men. It appears that Robert Hunter picked up two barges that were drifting on the river, opposite the city. They have been claimed by Thomas Hackett, who has brought suit for their possession. Hunter claimed the usual salvage of one-fifth on the boats, and the defendant failed to show salvage. Judge Rombauer instructed the jury at considerable length. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff. Wood and Fichtenkam appeared for the plaintiff; Garesche and Meade for the defendant.

—The Point Pleasant Marine Railway Company has received their certificate of incorporation. It is now proposed that the company open books for subscriptions to its capital stock, and when the necessary amount to build and complete the ways for business is subscribed, to commence the work at once. One-half of the stock is already subscribed.

—In the case of Daniel Murphy vs. W. J. May et al, owners of the steamboat Mercury, in the Court of Common Pleas, at Louisville, the jury failed to agree and were discharged. The jury stood nine for defendants and three for plaintiff. We understand that proceedings for a new trial will be commenced at once.

—The John Kilgour refused to receive freight at Louisville, on Friday, because it was hauled down after the hour she was advertised to leave. She had hauled in her staging, but was still at the wharf. We give Capt. Benson credit for promptness.

—A. J. Cavender, proprietor of the dry dock at Evansville, died in that city Saturday morning, from injuries received by an explosion last Tuesday. His remains will be brought to Ohio for interment.

—Mr. Thomas Smithers, carpenter of the Mollie Gratz, died on that boat at Evansville, on Thursday, of pneumonia. The body was taken to New Albany where he has a wife and family.

—A dispatch from the steamer Peoria City states that she is lying in twenty feet of water, on one side, over the docks of the other, and settling very fast, with but slight hopes of raising her.

—The Glasgow, arrived at Cincinnati on Sunday. Capt. Robinson claims that he had the biggest trip ever shipped from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati and Louisville.

River and Weather

LOUISVILLE, March 2.—River falling; seven feet ten inches of water in the canal. Weather clear and mild.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Monthly Meeting of Central Board will be held Tuesday next.

The Allegheny Police appeared in their new uniforms yesterday and made a very fine appearance.

City Councils.—A special or adjourned meeting of City Councils will be held this (Wednesday) afternoon at two o'clock.

The Allegheny Board of School Controllers don't want to be bored with applicants for election to the proposed City Superintendency.

Fire.—Yesterday a slight fire occurred at the Crystal Oil Works at the Sharpsburg bridge. No damage worthy of note resulted, the flames being promptly extinguished.

Removed.—Walter Davis, who attempted to commit suicide at the Greenwood House, several days since, was yesterday afternoon removed from the lockup to the Poor Farm.

Vacancy Filled.—The Supreme Court has appointed R. H. Davis to fill a vacancy in the Board of Inspectors of the Western Penitentiary, caused by the resignation of James H. Parker.

Fined.—Henry Lutz was brought before Mayor Drum yesterday, and fined five dollars and costs for disorderly conduct. The information was preferred against him by his brother, John Lutz.

Surety.—Mary Hannington alleges that Neely Burns threatened to hit her on the head with a brick. Neely was arrested and gave bail for a hearing, before Alderman McMasters, on an information for surety of the peace.

Committed.—David Stewart alleges that John McCarty threatened to shoot him. The parties reside in the First ward, Allegheny. McCarty was arrested and fined five dollars by Mayor Drum, in default of which he was committed to jail.

Held for a Hearing.—Samuel Allender, charged with felonious assault and battery before the Mayor, on oath of Geo. G. Brown, was arrested yesterday and held to bail in the sum of $3,000 for a hearing Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

Shoulder Dislocated.—A miner employed in Bailey's coal works, Mount Washington, had his right shoulder dislocated yesterday, by the falling of a mass of slate. He was not otherwise injured, and no serious consequences are apprehended.

Selling Liquor on Sunday.—A warrant was issued yesterday by Alderman Lynch for the arrest of Patrick Bradley, charged, on oath of Christopher Bradford, with selling liquor on Sunday. Bradley keeps a saloon at the corner of Tunnel and Webster streets.

Notice to the Generous Public.—The Church Sociable, under the auspices of the First Colored Baptist Church of Allegheny, will be continued in Davis' Hall, on Water street, near Federal, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, March 3d and 4th. Admission 15 cents.

Recovered.—The body of Beckwith Sears has been recovered. It will be remembered that the deceased was one of the five men drowned in the Monongahela river, between Morgantown and Geneva, about a week ago. The river is being dragged for the remaining three bodies.

Assault and Battery.—Mary McDonald made information before Justice Salisbury yesterday, charging her husband, John McDonald, with assault and battery. She alleges that John is addicted to the use of strong drink, and when he gets drunk abuses her. He was arrested and held for a hearing.

Exhausted.—We learn that the last of the money raised for the relief of the sufferers by the explosion at Reese, Graff & Dull's mill was paid out yesterday. It is about eighteen months since it was raised. The Treasurer, Mr. E. T. Cook, is preparing and will have his final account of the management of the fund ready for publication in a few days.

Disorderly Conduct.—Mrs. Poohle made information before Justice Salisbury, yesterday, charging her husband, Fred. Poohle, with disorderly conduct. She alleges that Fred. came home drunk on Monday night and behaved in a disorderly manner. He was arrested and, after a hearing, was discharged upon payment of a fine and costs.

Mrs. Jane G. Swisshelm will repeat her lecture on "Human Suffrage and its Relation to Divine Law," in the Second U. P. Church, corner of Stockton avenue and Sandusky street, Allegheny, to-morrow evening, for the benefit of the new African M. E. Church of that city. The lecture is full of thought, truth and beauty, and we hope there will be a large attendance.

Another Coal Dealer Arrested.—John Wilbert, a coal hauler, was brought before Alderman Humbert yesterday for violating the city ordinance relative to weighing coal. The information sets forth that the accused is in the habit of hauling coal in South Pittsburgh and selling it in Pittsburgh without having it weighed on the city scales. Wilbert gave bail for a further hearing on Saturday.

Sudden Death—Coroner's Inquest.—Adam Baker, a resident of Mount Washington, died suddenly at his home Monday about four o'clock, P. M. The deceased, although sixty-seven years of age, was in good health until a short time previous to his death. Coroner Clawson was notified, and held an inquest on the body yesterday, when a verdict of death from apoplexy was rendered.

Insane Man Arrested.—Monday evening, a man giving his name as John Armford, was brought from Minersville by Dr. Thorn, and turned over to an officer, who conducted him to the watchhouse. The man is insane, and was wandering around Minersville, when taken in charge by the Doctor. He was sent to jail for the purpose of having his case brought before the Court, with a view to having him sent to Dixmont.

Alleged False Pretence.—G. H. Gibson made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against John H. Gibson for false pretence. The prosecutor states that the accused obtained from him labor and material to the amount of thirty-three dollars by representing that he had money in bank and was the owner of property in Pittsburgh, all of which are said to be false statements. The accused resides at Braddock's fields. A warrant was issued.

The New High School Building.—The building committee of the Central Board of Education met yesterday at the rooms of the Board, and adopted the plans and specifications for the proposed new High School building. The plans and specifications will be submitted to the Board at its next regular meeting, and if approved the committee will, we presume, be instructed to advertise for proposals for the construction of the building in accordance therewith.

THE ALLEGHENY SCHOOLS.

Regular Meeting of the Board of Controllers—Reports of Local Boards, Committees, &c.—The City Superintendency—Miscellaneous Business.

A regular monthly meeting of the Allegheny Board of School Controllers was held last evening in the Common Council Chamber, City Building.

President Clark being absent, at half-past seven o'clock the meeting came to order, Mr. John E. Parke taking the chair. Rev. King opened the proceedings with prayer.

The following members answered to their names at the call of the roll: Messrs. Barr, Boyle, Barker, Beckart, Brown, Borland, Chadwick, Dennison, Eaton, Francis, King, Lea, Lockhart, Miller, Moul, Mussler, McRoberts, McConnell, Oakley, Patterson, Pitcairn, Parke, Riggs, Swift, Sprague, Torrence, Trimble, Walton, Wilhelm, White and Young.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

REPORTS OF LOCAL BOARDS.

Reports from the various Local Boards exhibited the schools in a flourishing condition. In most of them there was an increase in the average attendance during the month. Good order and attention to their duties generally prevailed on the part of the scholars.

Mr. Eaton, from the Committee on Colored Schools, presented a report, which exhibited a very encouraging condition of these schools.

Mr. Francis, Secretary of the Board, read a monthly report, embodying a statement of the attendance in the schools during the month, from which it appeared that the average attendance was as follows: First ward, 634; Second ward, 1,084; Third ward, 1,169; Fourth ward, First precinct, 428; Second precinct, 513; Fifth ward, 375; Sixth ward, 608; Eighth ward, 154; Colored Schools, 137; total, 5,102.

Mr. Lea, from the Committee appointed to consider the expediency of establishing a High School in the city, stated that at the last meeting of the Committee there were just enough members present to constitute a quorum, and no action was taken in the matter.

Mr. Moul, from the Committee appointed to take into consideration the matter of the Seventh ward independent school district, reported progress, and thought they would be able to report finally at next meeting.

Mr. Trimble presented a petition from two tax-payers in the Sixth ward, asking to be exonerated from the payment of the school tax assessed upon them.

On motion, the exoneration was allowed.

Mr. King presented the following:

WHEREAS, To a Committee consisting of one from each ward in the city has been referred the duty of investigating the matter, and reporting at some future time to this Board, with regard to the propriety or need of establishing a High School and electing a City Superintendent; and whereas, said Committee, by an unanimous vote of this Board, hitherto given, is to name the candidate for the position should one be chosen, fix his salary, and define his duties, and as the whole subject is yet in an immature state and not decided upon, and believing that especially in such cases as this, the position should look for the man and not the man for the position, therefore,

Resolved, That the members of this Board refuse as yet to entertain applications or pledge themselves to support any one who may ask for the position.

Mr. King moved the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Lea asked if the passage of the resolution would transfer the matter from the hands of the Committee back to the Board?

Mr. King said such was not the intent of the resolution. It was merely intended to act as a check to any persons seeking the position, by button-holing the member either of the Committee or Board.

Some further discussion followed, after which a vote was taken on Mr. King's motion to adopt the resolution, which resulted in a tie, the President voting in the affirmative.

So the resolution was decided by the chair as lost.

The Secretary read a communication from the Sixth Ward Local Board, stating that Isaac Stewart had resigned the position of tax collector for the ward and that R. Dilworth had been elected to fill the position.

On motion, the action of the Board was confirmed.

The Secretary read a communication from Senator Graham, requesting the Board to take some action in regard to two bills accompanying his communication. The first bill was in relation to the formation of Reserve township into a ward of the city and making adjustment of all claims between the township and city, arising out of said arrangement.

The second was in relation to giving the old wards the right to compensation, from new wards created out of them, for school property.

Considerable discussion ensued in relation to the matter, some of the members contending that the Board had no authority in either case, the local boards of the different wards interested being the only proper parties to whom the bills should be referred.

On motion, the bills were finally received and approved.

Mr. Walton moved that the Secretary be instructed to notify Senator Graham of the action of the Board in regard to the bills. Carried.

Mr. Lea moved that an assistant music teacher be employed in the schools. Carried.

Mr. Lea then moved that Prof. Harry Horner be employed in that capacity for the remainder of the present year. Carried.

Mr. Francis moved that a tax of ten mills on the dollar be levied for educational purposes for the present year. Carried.

Mr. Borland moved to increase the salary of the Janitor of the Board from $100 to $150 per year. The motion was lost.

On motion of Mr. King, Prof. M. B. Sloan was allowed ten minutes to exhibit an astronomical apparatus showing the movements of the earth around the sun.

On motion, adjourned.

Extensive Robbery.

About six o'clock Monday evening the jewelry store of H. Knœble was robbed of jewelry to the amount of $300. Mr. K., it appears, was at supper and had left his son in the store during his absence, when two men came in and requested him to show them some watches. After examining the watches for some time they went out without purchasing. Subsequently one of them returned and asked to see some rings. A tray of rings worth about three hundred dollars was set out upon the counter, from which the man selected one, and asked the price of it. The boy, not knowing what it was worth, went to ask his father, and when he returned his customer had disappeared, taking with him the tray and its contents. No clue to the thief.

A Man Shot—Villainous Assault on a Peaceable Citizen—The Whisky Sellers' Ring.

A most villainous assault was made upon Mr. Jno. Carvill, a quiet and peaceable citizen, yesterday, by David Audie, a notorious character who, it would appear, is in the service of the whisky sellers of this city. It appears that Mr. Carrill, on Sunday last, was arrested for drunkenness, and during the time that he was in the lock-up the Mayor discovered where he had obtained the whisky and compelled him to make information against the parties selling it, which he did, much against his own inclination. The parties, who are whisky sellers in the Diamond, were arrested and fined by His Honor, and Mr. C., who, under the law, was entitled to a portion of the fine as informer, refused to receive it. Yesterday morning, while engaged at work plastering in the third story of a house on Liberty street, Allegheny, Audie came in and demanded of him a portion of the money he had received for making the information referred to. He replied that he had not received any money and that he had not made an information with the expectation of getting any. Audie then asked him what he made it for, calling him a d——d informer, and pulled out a revolver and fired two shots at him, the first of which took effect in his right wrist, inflicting a serious wound, and the other passed through the breast of his coat and vest, slightly cutting the skin. The villain thinking that he had killed Carvill, which was doubtless his intention, fled, leaving the wounded man alone in the room.

Mr. C. on recovering from the shock repaired to Mayor Brush's office and made information charging Audie with felonious assault and battery. A warrant was issued.

This incident is another evidence of the fact, to which we referred some time since, of the existence of a ring or league among whisky sellers, the object of which is to prevent the enforcement of the laws relative to selling whisky, by just such proceedings as these related above. It is only a few weeks since a man who had made information against a whisky dealer, was attacked by three men and beaten almost to death, for no other reason than that of having made the information. It is time these gentlemen should know that they, with all other classes of citizens, must either obey the laws or submit to the punishment their violation of it entails. The matter should be investigated. There are, doubtless, men dealing in whisky who have no disposition to break the laws, yet the public makes no discrimination in its censure, condemning all whisky dealers on account of the doings of a few rogues.

Sunday Liquor Selling.

Notwithstanding the fact that in addition to the act of Assembly prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors on Sunday, the violation of which is punishable by fine and imprisonment upon conviction in the Court of Quarter Sessions, there is also in existence a law imposing a penalty of fifty dollars upon the offender, one half of which goes to the informer, there appears to be a disposition upon the part of many of the liquor dealers to disregard the laws, and the authorities are unable to enforce a strict observance of them.

That liquor is sold in this city on Sunday, and at divers places, is clearly evident from the number of drunken men found upon the streets on Sunday and Sunday nights. The police officers seem to be vigilant in the performance of their duties in arresting the poor, degraded, drunken creatures, many of whom, perhaps, had but a few moments prior to falling into the officers' hands, paid their last dime over the counter of the rum seller for a glass of his "double distilled poison," and, having no more money, is kicked out of the rum shop, and is picked up by the first officer who passes, conducted to the lock-up, where he is furnished with lodgings for the night, and, at the Mayor's Court the next morning, having no money to pay the fine imposed upon him, is committed to jail for ten or twenty days, while his family, dependent upon his labor for their daily bread, must beg, starve or steal, and the whisky seller, the only person who has violated the law or committed an offense of which the Courts takes cognizance, is allowed to remain undisturbed in the enjoyment of his ill-gotten gains.

Mayor Brush has expressed a determination to prevent the Sunday liquor traffic, and will doubtless use all the means in his power to accomplish that end, and every citizen who desires to see the laws strictly enforced, should feel it his duty to aid him in this work.

The police might, if they so desired, aid the Mayor materially in his undertaking. There are no persons, except the man who sells whisky to the unfortunate wretch who drinks it, know so well who it is that sells liquor on Sunday as the policemen. They may not possess that personal knowledge of the fact as to enable them to testify to it, but when it is once ascertained that a man sells liquor, it is no difficult matter to obtain the evidence requisite to convict him of the offense. We are not sure that it is not the duty of the police officer, under his oath, to hunt down these violators of the laws of both God and man and subject them to that punishment which, we regret to say, is inadequate to the offense.

Laying In a Stock.

The ice men are busily engaged in laying in their stock for the coming season. The cold weather of the last few days has been quite a fortunate turn for them, as they will now be enabled to get a pretty good supply on hand, which otherwise would not have been the case. Some parties have purchased the ice at the Union Park, which is said to be quite solid and of a superior quality. This of course, stops skating at the Park, which is regretted by all the skatorial fraternity.

We have been informed that other parties have contracted for ice, which is now being delivered at the Allegheny Depot of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway at six dollars per ton. One of our prominent dealers, whose ice house is located near the bank of the river, succeeded, during the cold weather in December, 1868, in storing one thousand four hundred tons, at a cost of about thirty-five cents per ton. Comparing the figures, if they are any criterion, he has ample cause to congratulate himself on making such a lucky hit.

A Delinqnent Husband.

A warrant was issued by Mayor Drum yesterday morning for the arrest of John Shober, charged with desertion by his wife, Mrs. Philomena Shober. Mrs. Shober says the accused has for some time past spent all his earnings in drinking, refusing to do anything toward the support of herself or their children. She depended for a livelihood upon the product of four cows, but this source of revenue, she states, has been cut off by her husband, who, during her absence on Monday afternoon, sold the animals and expended the proceeds for liquor. Her case, if the statement made be true, is a sad one indeed, and the delinquent wretch should be made to feel severely the effects of his shortcomings.

Fatal Accident

An accident of a most shocking nature occurred on the Pittsburgh & Connellsville Railroad, at Long Run station, about a mile and a half from McKeesport, by which Jordan Nesmith, an employee on the road, was killed instantly. The unfortunate man was fireman on engine No. 14, which at the time was attached to a train of twenty-one coal cars. He was engaged in throwing coal in the fire, standing with one foot on the tender and the other in the cab, when the coupling pin or king bolt raised sufficient to allow the coupling to slip out, when the engine immediately parted from the train causing him to fall on the track, and the entire train of twenty-one cars and the tender passed over his body. The engine was stopped as soon as possible, and the conductor and engineer went back to look for Nesmith, whom they found over a hundred feet from where the accident occurred, the body having been dragged along by the train. The body was shockingly mutilated; one leg having been severed at the knee, one arm torn from the body at the shoulder joint, the head crushed and the remaining portion of the body crushed and bruised. The remains were gathered together, placed in a sheet and removed to Connellsville where he resided, when an inquest was held by Justice Benjamin Prichard. The jury found a verdict in accordance with the facts.

The deceased was about thirty years of age and leaves a widow and one child.

Interesting Occasion.

Mr. J. W. Drury, the popular and efficient conductor of the McDonald accommodation train on the Pan Handle Railway, was made the recipient, a few evenings ago, of a handsome and elegant gold watch and chain, the gift of his friends. The ceremony of presentation took place at the house of Mr. S. H. Cook, at McDonald Station, the speech of the occasion being made by Mr. J. N. McDonald, Mr. Drury appropriately responding. An elegant supper was spread for the guests, and all were heartily pleased with the affair. The watch was one of the best Howard Chronometers, with compensating balance, adjusted to heat, cold and position, and was as splendid a time piece as any man need desire. It was obtained of Messrs. J. R. Reed & Co., No. 68 Fifth avenue, whose time is the standard for all of our leading railroads. It is a noticeable fact that the public know full well the merit of Reed & Co.'s watches when they are selecting for railroad officials, as nearly all of the presentations we have recorded of late have been of selections made at that popular establishment.

Leisure Hours.

We have received the March number of "Leisure Hours," our ably conducted home monthly magazine, published by Messrs. O'Dwyer & Co., No. 59 Fourth avenue. It contains a continuation of Mr. J. Trainor King's invaluable history of Pittsburgh, the Life of Senator John Scott, with a life-like and truthful engraving, and a vast amount of original poetry and prose. The magazine is a formidable rival in point of spirit, tone and ability to any of its more widely-known contemporaries, and all Pittsburghers should take pride in supporting and encouraging the well-directed enterprise which puts it forward. All news dealers have it for sale.

The Masquerade.—The masquerade at the Rink last evening was a brilliant success. The ice was in splendid condition and the attendance of skaters and spectators exceedingly large. Variety, neatness and elegance, with just enough of the comic to render the display interesting and laughable, marked the costumes. The exhibition of fancy skating was unusually fine and elicited frequent applause from the spectators. Superintendent Brown and his assistants have reason to feel proud of the success which attends their efforts in managing the establishment.

The Weather, although inclement, has not interfered with the great clearance sale at the store recently occupied by Dennison & Heckert, trimming and notion dealers. Messrs. Macrum & Carlisle having bought out the entire stock, are determined to close it out without regard to cost, and readers who study economy should bestow a large share of their patronage on No. 27 Fifth avenue.

Notice.—All the very latest weekly papers, dime novels, and songsters, for sale at Getty's, Alliquipa street, Braddocks. Also, agent for the Daily and Weekly GAZETTE.

Special Bargains are offered in lace goods and embroideries at W. W. Moorhead's fashionable retail trimming and notion house, No. 81 Market street.

The Alarm of fire sounded from Box 54 of the fire alarm yesterday afternoon was false.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Lotta was greeted with a large and fashionable audience last night, the second night of her engagement at the Opera House, and from the enthusiastic manner in which she was received at every appearance upon the stage and applauded throughout the entertainment, she can have no doubt of the high appreciation in which she is held in Pittsburgh. "Paul the Pet" and "Nan," with Lotta in the title roles of both pieces, were presented. Lotta has no rival in her line of characters. She is full of vivacity and her humor is only excelled by her great versatility. Tonight, "The Female Detective," with Lotta in six characters, introducing songs, banjo solo and dances, with "An Object of Interest" as after-piece.

SMYTHE'S AMERICAN THEATTE.—The Victorelli Brothers are creating a furore at the American this week. Their horizontal bar and trapeze performances are of an entirely new character and are generally admired by all who witness them. There are a number of other attractions at the American, but as the house is filled to its utmost capacity every night, it is useless to mention them.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Dr. Thayer's excellent company of acrobats, gymnasts and equestrians continue to draw large audiences at the Pittsburgh Theatre. The ladies and children should remember the matinee this afternoon.

Liebler's Extensive Trunk Factory.

The Spring stock of trunks now on exhibition at the extensive and well managed trunk emporium of Joseph Liebler, No. 104 Wood street, attracts much attention, as it is one of the largest and most complete ever held by any house west of the mountains. The enterprising proprietor, in looking forward to the Spring and Summer trade, believes that there will be a large demand, not only for trunks but for articles in all other lines of business, and hence he has kept a full force of hands at work to supply the demands of the patronage which will be directed towards him. He sells at wholesale and retail, and at such prices as to make it advantageous to purchasers to bestow their patronage at his establishment. We commend Mr. Liebler as a fair dealing, honorable business gentleman, and one in every way worthy the confidence of our readers.

Auction Sales of Real Estate.

A. Leggate, Auctioneer, invites attention to the following sales of Real Estate. Cut this out for reference:

On Wednesday (to-day) at 2 o'clock, by wholesale, twelve Brick Houses of four rooms each, on Allegheny avenue and Ward's alley, near the outer depot round house. This is a good renting property, to which the attention of capitalists is directed.

On Wednesday (to-day) at 3 o'clock, that good dwelling house of eight rooms, 24 Palo Alto street, Allegheny.

On Thursday next at 2 o'clock, two small brick houses, 38 and 40 Sedgwick street, Sixth ward, Allegheny.

On Thursday next at 3 o'clock, that good brick house of five rooms, on the corner of Bidwell street and Ohio avenue, Allegheny.

Also, at private sale, several good residences on the best streets, including the North and West Commons.

N. B.—A. Leggate's personal attention given to auction sales of all kinds in Pittsburgh, Allegheny city and county.

The Continental.

It would be unnecessary in us to call the attention of our many readers to the Continental Dining Rooms, Fifth avenue, next door to the Postoffice, since the fact that that is one of the best, if not the very best establishment of its character in the city, is so generally known, but we take pleasure in recommending establishments of this character, when conducted as this one is. Mr. Holtzheimer, the gentlemanly proprietor, is a model man in his line of business and keeps a model establishment. His rooms are always neat and clean, and the larder is supplied bountifully with the best of everything to be obtained in the market, and as a consequence, the patrons of the establishment can enjoy a dinner, supper, or dish of oysters, which are served in every style, such as he can no where else obtain.

Large Sale of Furniture, Carpets and Household Goods.

On Thursday, March 4th, at Masonic Hall Auction Rooms, 55 and 57 Fifth avenue, will be sold without reserve, a large assortment of Furniture, Carpets and Household Goods. At 2 o'clock P.
